DEDICATION

Many of us know Mr. Feakes as a helpful and caring counselor whom we have always gone to for help with such things as schedule changes, grades, test and scholarship applications. Everyone who has ever talked to Mr. Feakes also knows that he only spent six weeks at Santa Cruz High School, where he flunked out at the age of 15. Mr. Feakes' own experience with teachers and counselors who did not care about kids during his own high school years may have been one of the reasons why he became a counselor.

After spending two years in the Coast Guard, surviving WWII, and participating in two invasions during the Korean War, Mr. Feakes suddenly decided to become a teacher. He enrolled at Monterey College and attended it while he was still working in the Coast Guard. He was so successful that he went on to Contra Costa College, and the University of California, Berkeley to finish his education, and to get his major in history.

Mr. Feakes taught one year of history when he first came to Central Valley High School, and then he was moved to counseling. He did not mind this move at all; he found he liked helping the kids with their problems. The one thing he had to learn was to leave his students' problems at school, and to have faith in the students' ability to solve their own problems.

During his retirement, Mr. Feakes plans to continue doing work with the Coast Guard Auxiliary and teaching night classes at Shasta College.

We proudly dedicate the Talon 1987 Yearbook to Mr. Richard Feakes. This is Mr. Feakes' last year here with us at Central Valley, and we want to thank him for the support and guidance he has always been more than willing to give.

Bon Voyage!

Life Is But A Dream . . .

Transportation . . . Everybody Wants It

As your sixteenth birthday approaches, thoughts of a driver's license turn in your mind. You're more than hoping that there will be a car in the driveway for you, along with a brilliant sign saying, "Happy Sweet Sixteen!" As we all know, for the most normal Falcons this is just a dream, a fantastic one!!

Transportation at Central Valley High School is considered absolutely essential to any senior Falcon. The types of vehicles vary from old labomba's to the new craze in mini-trucks. For those who are less fortunate, there are the more common Reebok and Nike Expresses.

No matter what the transportation is, Central Valley High School has that special something that keeps its students coming back.

The Sealyonmobile rides again.
Mini trucks were the fad this year.
Tammy's Baby.
Everyone needs one of these to cruise in on Friday night.

Dare To Be A Falcon

It's Friday, and you have just been dismissed from the pep rally. The chant C-V-H-S is racing through your head. The big game is only hours away. As you walk through the halls, your eyes focus on the game posters, "GO FALCONS, GO!"

Sports at Central Valley High School are not only the most favorite past time, but also an expression.

They are an expression of happiness, valued friendships, memorable good times, and, of course, the thing that C.V. is most famous for — our special and fantastic spirit!

Sports contribute more than almost any other activity to this spirit. They help get people involved and make them feel that they really do belong to the "Falcon Family."

The crowd at the games made our Falcons Fight!

The Most Spirited Place To Be

Don't you want to know where the rest of the crowd is going?

Central Valley High School has always been a unique school. One reason for this is the tremendous spirit that it posesses.

The reason why people at Central Valley have such joyful spirit is because they never give up. They always believe in themselves no matter what. This kind of spirit is what lifts them up above the rest of the crowd, giving them hope, not only for now, but for the future as well.

Yes, Central Valley High School is definately the place to be.

Louise Corbin and Kathy Coombs put the finishing touches on the Big Apple.

Do You Want To Be My Friend?

The excitement is there, your stomach is turning, and the feeling of being a Falcon overwhelms you.

It's your first day at Central Valley High School as a sophomore. You're scared, nervous and wondering who will be your friend.

As you wander around, staring at the walls and the floor with your hands full of folders, paper, pencils, and anything else you could find, suddenly somebody bumps into you. Everything goes everywhere, including your purse full of make-up. You don't know what to do or what to say. A person bends down and starts to collect your mess. You quickly bend down and say, "I'm sorry. I guess I wasn't watching where I was going." You are so busy apologizing that you don't realize you bumped into a senior. She looks at you, smiles and says, "It's o.k., I should be more careful. "Are you a sophomore?" You quietly reply "Yes, are you a senior?" She looks at you and says, "Yes, my name is Kathy. How about being my friend?"

Tyrone Fuller and Ed Geisler enjoy the "New York, New York" Homecoming Dance.
Teri German, Pam DePuy, Samantha Trafton, and Shannon Pacheco show their spirit at our 2nd Annual Homecoming Game.
Karen Miceli and Stephanie Ramsey are best buddies forever.
Loren Flynn, Scott Lawrimore, Quoc Trong, Kevin Williams, and Mark Herrin cheer on the seniors.

Hanging Out With The Crowd

What Do You Do With Forty-Five Minutes Of Freedom?

"Hey! Did you see that cute guy? Do you know where he eats lunch?" "Yeah, at T.J.'s"
"Wow! Is she fine! I wonder where she eats lunch. In the cafeteria? Are you sure? I can't wait for lunch!"
We all seem to have our most favorite hang-outs, or places to go to at lunch.
Some of the popular places close to C.V. are Sonny's, Taco Den, Shasta View Market, and T.J.'s, (which recently changed their name to LIPS.)
These places are significant to Central Valley students because they give us a chance to forget about school for a moment and to have a little fun. They're also good places to meet new friends.
"R-R-R-I-N-G!" . . . Whoops! There's the bell, better get back to school!

Falcon Fashion . . . Casualness Dominates

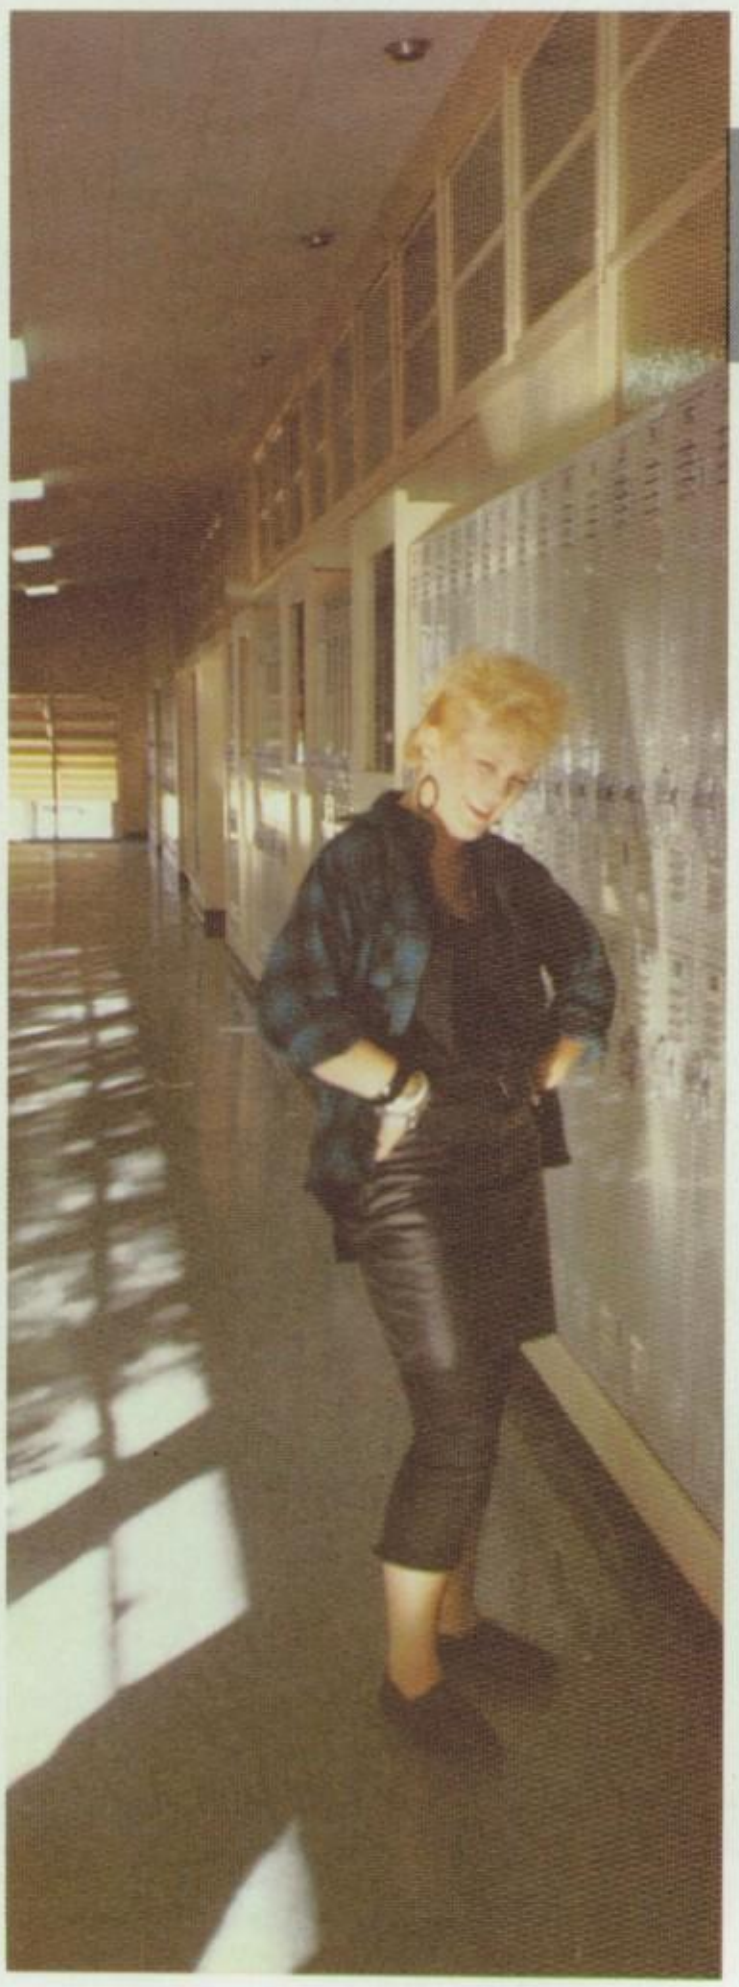
"Mom . . . what am I going to wear?", you whine on a Saturday evening.

"Dad . . . what am I going to drive in town?"

So many questions and so many wrong answers. Fashion . . . everybody's into it. It always seems that you have to wear the right clothes and drive the right vehicle to match your school. But at Central Valley High School everything is different.

Casualness was one of C.V.'s greatest fashions. Students usually wore 501's and flannel t-shirts. Except on Fridays, then we saw the all time favorites, red, white, and blue Falcon football jerseys.

We had the all original fashion-gold and silver shoes with matching hand bags.



As far as haircuts go . . . everyone was exceptionally original.

So as you can see, Falcon fashion was not only different, but also unique.

TOGETHER FOREVER

On September 26th, at three o'clock in the afternoon, in front of the student body and community, Jeff Taylor and Kathy Johnson were crowned king and queen for the 1986 Homecoming at Central Valley High School at Falcon Field.

Jeff, a senior at CV, enjoys everything outdoors. He loves to run and ride his bike. At school, Jeff was on the track and cross-country team. His interests do not just lie in the sports area, he also enjoys drama. He was a member of the advanced drama class and started his own drama club. But all in all, Jeff enjoys spending time with Kathy, the most.

Kathy, also a senior, loves to get involved in school spirit. Throughout the football seasons she was head-head cheerleader and mascot. She enjoys waterskiing and spending time with Jeff. In the community she serves as an active member of the International Order of the Rainbow for Girls. Congratulations Jeff and Kathy!

-Kathy VanPelt

Homecoming '86

JUST YOU AND ME

"Mom ... guess what? I was nominated for Homecoming Queen!" "Dad, can I borrow a tie to wear for Homecoming. I was nominated for king."

Homecoming week ... the most exciting time of the year for a high school student body. It's a time when a certain selected people get all dressed up for what we call "royalty." It also brings out mighty Falcon spirit in our student body. It's a time when the community comes together to help make Falcon Field the best it can be.

This year, Homecoming was held on September 26th. Our opponent was Orland and although we lost, the spirit of the crowd and the teams still soared.

At half time our Falcon family was crowned. Jeff Taylor and Kathy Johnson took honors of King and Queen.

All in all, the second annual 'home' Homecoming held at Falcon Field was not only was a success, but also a boost of spirit for the school, community and the students.

HOMECOMING SPIRIT

Everyone really enjoyed it. The faculty, students, and community were all ready involved in making the 1986 Homecoming the best its ever been, said junior Jacquie Salley. "This junior varsity game was really exciting". The fact that the JV's tried in the game against Corning really made this Homecoming special."

Bringing It Back Home

TAKING A BITE

Bursting laughter and smiles filled Central Valley's halls as the 1986 Homecoming charged the school with excitement. C.V. took their bite out of the Big Apple with New York, New York as their theme for the 1986 Homecoming.

The week began with dress up days, and fun filled lunchtime activities such as balloon passes, peanut rolls, lifesaver passes, and the all-traditional air-band. As Jason Cassidy stated, "Spirit Week was great! Not only was there a tremendous amount of energy, but everyone had a real positive attitude." The highlights of the week were the Homecoming Rally, the Faculty Air Band (Yes, I said "faculty"!), The Powder Puff Football game and the big game. Everyone had been waiting for the Central Valley Falcons vs. the Orland Panthers on Saturday afternoon on our field.

The Junior Varsity played our exciting game with the final score being tied, 16-16, David Duarte, a member of the J.V. team, was a little skeptical. "We played great the first half, but we got too confident. We started celebrating before the game was over."

The Varsity game, however, was a little less exciting. As Mr. Rhyne, (Varsity coach), said, "Our offense improved, but our defensive backs played their worst game." All in all, Spirit Week was a huge success thanks to participation and cooperation from everybody. Good job, Falcons!

"It Was The Best Dance Ever!"

NEW YORK, NEW YORK

After all the commotion of Spirit Week, and the frustration of losing the varsity football game, the Homecoming dance turned out to be a big success.

From eight to eleven o'clock, proud Falcons danced the night away to Jason Cassidy's "music for the intelligent society."

An ecstatic member of the elite class, Stormy Laflin said, "It was really fun. The best dance so far!" Dr. Embertson said, "The kids really seemed to enjoy this dance more than any other."

The Talon Yearbook staff arranged and decorated this dance. Everything looked great and went over well. Thanks guys!

Falcon Improvement Is Promising

SO CLOSE, YET SO FAR

Varsity football had a great season despite the win/loss record. Mark Jacona, the strongest-armed quarterback in the NAL, threw well. The receivers caught the ball well, and the defenders set up a tough D. According to Richie McKinnon, he feels, "We have a better team than our record shows. A lot of our games that we lost, in my opinion, should've been wins." Many games were close, and one of the most exciting games was against Anderson. It was their Homecoming, and the tough Falcons were leading 6-3 at the half. Anderson pulled it off in the second half, but our boys showed the Falcons could finally compete head-to-head in the NAL.

The improvement of this team has been incredible. Since they started, they have gotten one hundred percent better. With some up-and-coming juniors and the sophomores returning from a good year, the season of '87-'88 looks promising. Brian Hesse summed it up for us. "Our season has improved since we started, and I hope we'll be even better next year." -Lisa Hofmann

Team Breaks Football Mean Streak

LITTLE MEN, BIG JOB

The junior varsity football team had a super year. They practiced very hard and played tough. The main highlights were when Central Valley Falcons beat the Shasta Wolves with a score of 14 to 6. Way to go guys! The greatest game, however, was when our boys tied with Orland at sixteen on our Homecoming day. What excitement! This junior varsity squad has high hopes of becoming the best team that has ever been developed out of Central Valley High School! Beating the Shasta Wolves has sparked the dream in the hearts of each individual player. Looking toward the future season, your school is expecting the best from you guys as you move up to play on the Varsity squad. We're proud of you and all the hard work that you have put in this year. An anonymous source told us, "This has been an awesome year as far as having a good time goes. Our scores weren't so great, but our effort was a hundred times better than a scoreboard could ever show. Our goal for next year is to become a team to beat in the NAL." If you work hard, it will all pay off someday. Stick together and you will be winners.

FALCON FOOTBALL CHEERLEADERS

Hey Kathy, what song do you think I should use for my routine?"

"Oh my gosh, Kim, I left my pom-poms at home!"

Cheerleading tryouts . . . the end of a dream or the beginning? For some it's the beginning of a ton of hard work, and many extra hours. Being a cheerleader is not all fun and glamour.

Every May, a panel of judges get together and judge energetic, fun-loving girls who dream of being CVHS Cheerleaders.

After they are chosen and their hearts have started beating again they start to choose a uniform. During the summer, all of the cheerleaders get together to go to cheerleading camp. During their four days in Oakland, the girls learn many different routines, like the camp dance that is performed at the first rally.

By the time the following year has rolled around, the girls are not only full of smiles, but are also ready to cheer.

So, as you can see, being a Falcon Cheerleader is not only a ton of fun, but it's also numerous hard hours. Even so, you will never see a CVHS Cheerleader, Songleader, or Mascot without a smile on her face!

When asked about this year's rallies, senior Kathy Van Pelt replied, "They were a lot better than last year's because we got the competition yell back, also this year's seniors, juniors, and sophomores are more spirited this year."

Junior, Lisa Hoffman, commented, "They turned out really good this year, and I was impressed with our spirit."

Jake Richardson, a sophomore, said, "They're a good way to get the school riled up for a game."

Spirit Soars At Central Valley

RED, WHITE, AND BLUE

It's Friday, second period, and you rush out of the classroom so you can hurry up and get to your locker before massive amounts of people crowd the halls, blocking your way.

As you race down the hall, you think to yourself suddenly, "Why is everyone in such a hurry?" "What's the big deal?"

Before you can answer yourself, someone bumps into you and practically knocks you down. This makes you remember, "Of course! How can you calmly walk when you're going to a rally at C.V.?"

The rallies at Central Valley were great. They contained many different activities, not to mention the spirit and pep that lifted you off the ground.

In Talon Hall "thermometers" were kept to record the classes "points" they received from various activities. These activities included dress, spirit, relay or game, behavior, and competition yell. This was a great way to keep everyone involved. The rallies at C.V. were definately the best.

Girls Score High Sportsmanship Points

LOVE ONE, LOVE ALL

The spectators are tense as the tennis ball seemingly floats in mid-air. Suddenly a strong arm brings the ready racket down upon the ball and smashes it into the opponent's court. ANOTHER VICTORY IS NETTED FOR THE C.V.H.S. GIRLS' TENNIS TEAM.

Heather Johnson told us, "Our team scores were not fantastic, but everyone improved and individual scores were super."

The team consisted of many seniors and juniors, plus two sophomores and three freshmen making it a mixture of experienced and inexperienced players. The top players, Kim Daily, Channon Brown, Sandy De Puy, Pam De Puy, Kim Dozier, and Amy Chambers used their experience to help the newer players, according to Coach Bill Springhorn. "Some young players to watch out for in the future," Coach Springhorn mentioned, "are Meridi Franklin, Pam De Puy, and Heather Johnson."

Coach Springhorn stated that, "the team worked hard, improved, learned a lot, and is an extremely classy group of young ladies. I'm proud to be their coach."

"Tennis is a really great experience. You can make lasting friendships, and learn the skill of a great sport. There's hard work involved, but you're a better player and a better person in the end."

-Kristin Diehl

FALCONS RUN FOR VICTORY

This year's Cross Country had a very good Varsity turnout. Coach Linda Doniak has been coaching the runners for six years. She commented that this year was the best talent that we have had with the depths that we have had. There were twenty-five runners, most of whom were juniors this year. The distance for the Varsity course was between 2.5 and 3.1 miles and the Junior Varsity was between 2.2 to 2.5 miles. Coach Doniak had many valuable runners, but there were always those who were special: on the Varsity boys squad, Jeff Taylor and on Varsity girls, Jenny Peterson. Brian Gaddy ran second on Varsity team and was also a Junior Varsity runner. Linda Frank and Steve Taylor were considered to be most improved players of the year. Our 1986-87 Cross Country team was undefeated and had an excellent season.

Team member Linda Frank, stated that the team had a lot of spirit and when everyone cheered her on, it made running a lot funner. She also stated that she hopes next year they can return champions once again. Linda Frank made all league top seven placing sixth in the league championship meet. Good Luck to our runners next year!

Hit Me With Your Best Shot!

TAKE IT TO THE TOP

When you hear sounds of enthusiastic girls in the Al Rose gym and balls bouncing from wall to wall on a day to day basis after school, you know it's our varsity volleyball team practicing for the big game. This year's team had a marvelous turn-out when it came to talented players. Most of the team returned from last year. Michelle Ast, who returned from last year's junior varsity team, was one who came back and attacked the ball with success. She was one of the players who was named most improved, as well as Natalie Wilhelmson. On the varsity senior side, Tracey Mossbarger was a big help for the team as one of the best passers and hitters. We are going to miss our senior girls and it will be a great loss. Thanks for helping make our varsity team what it was this year.

Mrs. Chase, the Varsity Volleyball coach, said that she was impressed with the girls' ability to cooperate and hang together. She also mentioned that they nagged at each other occasionally, but they were always able to recover and deal with any problem. Team member, Corrie Maloney, stated, "We worked hard and strived to win. Even though our scores and win-loss, statistics don't show it all. As a senior, volleyball had a great year, and we couldn't have done it without the dedication and support of a coach who puts out her all."

FALCONS' PRIDE

Falcons' pride rose as the baby birds soared to the top in Junior Varsity Volleyball this season The JV Volleyball team had a great record of 8 wins and 2 losses. They fought hard and took first place in league competition along with Yreka. The co-champions are very promising young ladies and will be tough to beat next year.

In tournament play the girls swept the northstate. In the Big Valley Tournament at the beginning of the year, our team took first. This was especially neat because it was the first time the girls had competed together. In the Junior Varsity Tournament, hosted by Central Valley, they once again took first place.

The girls on this team have done their best to make JV Volleyball an exciting and dynamic sport. The team members were extremely proud to represent Central Valley High School and plan to continue to play sports, and to show what great school spirit we have. Look out everybody - they are going to be the team to beat next year!

POWER BEHIND ACTION

This year's student council consisted of thirty students at Central Valley. Few people realize the importance of the jobs these dedicated young adults do. "The quality of student activities has been outstanding this year because of hard working members," stated John McIntosh, our new Student Activities Director.

Student Council meets every Monday either at lunch or during a class period. This year they have accomplished many things besides their regular duties. They started student-teacher secret pals and giving presents to all faculty for their birthdays. This promotes cooperation with student council by the teachers. These are just a few things the ASB does throughout the year. They organize and perform all assemblies, lunch time activities, homecomings, and many dances. They make posters to decorate the halls and gym, and organize fundraisers for many of the school's clubs and causes. Besides these things, they take care of just about everything that needs to be done to make CV more spirited and fun.

DO YOU WANT TO DANCE?

This year's dances were a real huge success. Many Central Valley students attended them. The dances were usually held once a month on Fridays. Each dance was put on by a different organization or group to raise money. The money made from the dances went to buy new equipment, or to bring other activities. This year the Yearbook Staff put on the annual Homecoming Dance. The theme was "New York New York." The dances were D.J'ed by Central Valley's own Jasson Cassidy. Jasson is from our very own D.J. Club. Jasson's assistants were Kevin Williams, and Scott Lawirmore. "They're radical, and they're fun," a Central Valley student said.

"MAKE MY DAY"

Gunsmoke Comes To Town

"Alright, partner, make my day!" It's the quick draw shoot out in the Talon Hall, and these two desparados are armed with their trusty squirt guns.

For once throwing airplanes scored points rather than lost them. It was "rad" to wear your hot pink jammies to Mr. Fehliman's class, and "killer" to flip down the halls in your scuba gear. If you wanted to be a "Western stud," you had to arm wrestle in Talon Hall, and wear blue and white. "Alright, partner you had to be in Talon Hall at high noon to watch the air band competition or you will be put in jail, with bail posted at .50." There you were sentenced to death for ten minutes unless your bail was met.

Friday night there was a roundup in the Talon Hall, where they celebrated the crowning of Central Valley's own king and queen took place, with their prince and princess. Wayne Cobb and Barbara Lawson were the king and queen, Steve Taylor and Natalie Wilhelmson were chosen as Central Valley's own prince and princess.

Wayne stated, "Golly, gee, that Barbara is the best square dancer this side of CV." Steve Taylor added "that Miss Wilhelmson was the prettiest little filly that he'd ever seen."

As the night drew to a close, the king and queen and their prince and princess got on their horses and rode into the moonlight.

ATTITUDE SCORES

Team Leads In Spirit

This year's Boy's Basketball team's record surprised some people, even though their record was 10-12 on the season and 2-8 in the league play.

The leading scorer was senior Wayne Cobb, who consistently scored in double figures. Wayne Cobb was born in Redding, California. Wayne has been playing basketball since he was 11 years old. All of his brothers have played basketball at CV. While Wayne was at Nova, he played on the Central Valley J.V. team. When he was a sophomore, he played on the varsity team. Wayne says "The thing I like most about basketball is winning!" Mike Daily was the second leading scorer and led the team in rebounds.

Coach John Strohmayer stated, "I think we are capable of better performances, but that will come with more experience as the season progresses. The attitude of the players is very positive, and they are a great group to work with. We also have a great group of juniors who are developing into very capable players. They will form a strong nucleus for next year's team."

FLYING HIGH

J.V. Boys Net Victories

This year's team did an outstanding job. The JV Basketball team had an impressive record of 17 wins and only 3 losses in the N.A.L. The 4 games they lost were very hard, close losses against tough opponents. The season record was 16 wins and 4 losses. The team came in third place in the Harlan Carter tournament, and second place in the N.A.L.

The leading scorer was Gaylon Johnson who did a tremendous job. Gaylon Johnson said he likes basketball the best when he's playing with his friends. Gaylon has been playing the game since he was 11 years old. Gaylon is also on the JV Baseball team. The leading rebounder was Aaron Mathews who also helped the JV team a great deal. Aaron has been playing basketball for 5 years. He played at Nova. He says he likes CV a lot. Aaron likes the fast break dunks! Chris Freibel spent more time in the air than on the court and gave a stunning performance at each game. One of Central Valley's juniors said "The team really had something special, and they had a really neat season." Another spectator said that "They felt proud to go to the games and support their team."

Mr. Saunders has coached JV for two years and has helped Mr. Strohmayer for three years. He also felt that they could have won the league, and that he was very pleased with the team.

BLOOD, SWEAT, AND CHEERS

Falcon Spirit Squad

As I sit in the senior section at one of C.V.'s awesome rallies, I wonder what it really takes to be a C.V.H.S. cheerleader. How many hard hours and how long does it take to really understand the beat to a song?

Our basketball cheerleaders are thirteen of a kind. Not only did they inspire the crowds during games, but they also gave spirit to the rallies.

Usually in May, a group of judges put together a super-fantastic spirit squad, which consists of six varsity girls, two fun-loving mascots, and five out-going J.V. girls. They have all summer and part of the following year to get prepared. Uniforms are ordered, along with pon-poms, gloves and anything else to make their spirit soar like a falcon.

Uniforms are not the only things decided upon; so are competition routines. The girls are not only expected to chant cheers, but also to perform first place dance routines. They displayed their perfection at the Harlan Carter Tournament held this year at C.V.H.S.

Although the girls didn't take first place, they still impressed the crowd and the student body.

So, as you can see, being a FALCON spirit squad member is not all fun and games. Even so, our cheerleaders are the best, and the school spirit would be incomplete without them!

Good luck in your future girls!!!

EXCITING MOMENTS

Girls' Charged Up

This year Central Valley had an exceptionally strong team charged with spirit, skill, and capability.

Mr. Loy Eide coached the team for the first time at Central Valley. He has coached at other schools such as Montgomerey Creek, Big Bend, and Artesia High. He stated that the girls' had really improved from the first of the year. Corri Maloney stated that Loy Eide, otherwise known as the "tidy bowl man", helped the Varsity girls' to have a good season. Even though the girls' were not undefeated, they had their exciting moments. Barbara Lawson stated that her most exciting moment had to have been when C.V. was playing Enterprise. "We were down by 21 points and in the fourth quarter we came out on top."

Barbara Lawson was also commented on her offensive power and on being the most valuable player on the team. She had no intention of thinking they weren't going to the top next year.

Phaedra Mitchell, the team's manager, had a word to say about Coach Eide and the Varsity Team. "Loy Eide was a good coach, considering how far they got. Although the team didn't make it to the state, they worked hard and made it far."

We are going to miss our Senior Varsity players, but good luck in the future juniors!

DRIBBLING SENSATION

Undefeated

The 1986-1987 Girl's Junior Varsity Basketball team was totally awesome and unbelievable this year. Before this year, Central Valley H.S. had never had an undefeated team in any sport.

There was an over abundance of talent throughout the line up, and both the offense and the defense were "rad" according to their coach, Bob Eaton.

Annette Wilhelmson was named as most valuable player and was also commented on for her unselfishness as a team member.

Coach Eaton was extremely proud of his girl's this year. He stated "their potentials were unlimited". He also mentioned that he hoped they learned something from him, because they were the nicest girls he had ever coached. "We ate a lot of pizza because they played so well."

The team was N.A.L. champions for the second year in a row with a 10-0 record. The girls came away as champions of theChico Junior Varsity Tournament and also the Shasta Union High School District champions. They averaged 6.2 points on offense, and only gave up 29.7. Their most successful plays were fast break and pressure defense. Not only was it a thrill to our fans to watch our team play, but the Red Bluff coach confided to Coach Eaton that "he enjoyed watching them play." No one will ever beat this team's outstanding performance. Congratulations, girls!!!

STRIKE UP THE BAND

Music Department Has Flair

C.V.'s band this year is playing very well. In fact, their conductor said they're the best in four years.

Many people don't know it, but our band represents us just as much as any sport. They participate in community functions, parades, festivals, and contests, and have placed well this year in all their efforts. They also hold concerts for our enjoyment a few times a year.

The band studies classical, jazz, and pop music, and this year they are doing extensive study of classicist Gustav Holst.

The money the band raises is used to pay for uniforms, music, equipment, entry fees, and many other things. They need our support just as much as the other clubs at C.V.

Nova also is involved in C.V.'s band. Future C.V. students from Nova play in our band. They don't have as much background but are progressing well this year.

Mr. Nigro's parents got him interested in music when he was very young and he has been involved since the fourth grade. Mr. Nigro wants the department to grow, but he is pleased with the caliber of students coming into his class. They are more serious about music than most of his previous students. Mr. Nigro told us, "There are many people with talent, but only the consistent people succeed. Musicianship is like anything else in life, 10% talent and 90% perspiration."

-Lisa Hofmann

C.V. CHOIR

The Music Makers

Even though they were small, the Central Valley Choir voices were ringing out loud and clear in anticipation of the Vocal Jazz and Show Pop Festival, an annual event in March. The students will strut their stuff in array of music and costumes from the late 50's and early 60's.

When asked about any goals for the year, Mr. Nigro replied, "Our biggest goal for the year is to improve the enrollment for the future. This is done mainly by admitting Nova students into the group. Also, auditions are very available to the entire student body in March."

When asked about how she felt about the Choir, Valerie Harris replied, "It's really great. The competitions we attend are really exciting and we learn a lot from our competitors."

Overall, the Choir is looking forward to an exciting year with other competitions. We wish you the best of luck in your future endeavors.

Good luck and keep up the good work Falcons!

FLAG TEAM

A New Edition

Some of you might have seen Central Valley's newest edition: the Flag Team. However, this is not the first flag team at C.V. As captain Cassie Porter stated, "The last flag team here at C.V. was in 1981. Unfortunately, due to lack of interest, it was not a success." Sadly though, such seems to be the case this year. Joyce Ide and Theresa Stevens are the only other two members who share the responsibility.

When asked about why she decided to investigate this project, Cassie replied, "I was on a flag team at my old school and I really enjoyed it. Heather Helmon, who also thought it was a good idea, helped me start it."

These girls had three competitions this year, and had a really exciting year. They hope that next year will bring more involvement.

Good Luck Falcons!

C.V. BRIDGE BUILDERS

Break Bridges And Records

Physics had a new instructor this year, Mr. Cross, but this did not change the tradition of bridge building. Mr. Ashcraft began the bridge building project over ten years ago.

The students build their bridges out of ten, three foot long, sticks of balsa wood and a tube of glue. The bridges must be built within specific rules to qualify.

This year Mike Barr came up with a totally new concept in bridge building. His bridge was built in two separate pieces, a block of wood was then placed in between the two pieces.

Mike's bridge held 357 pounds before it broke the scale used to measure the pressure put on the bridge. This broke the record that Mr. Dean Doniak had set many years ago.

Stephan Berkner used the same basic idea as Mike Barr, and his bridge reached 350 pounds. Since the scale had been broken, his bridge couldn't register any more weight than this.

As a participant in this tradition, I can say that the students enjoy building their bridges, and that this fun project will continue for many years to come.

-Katie Bullock

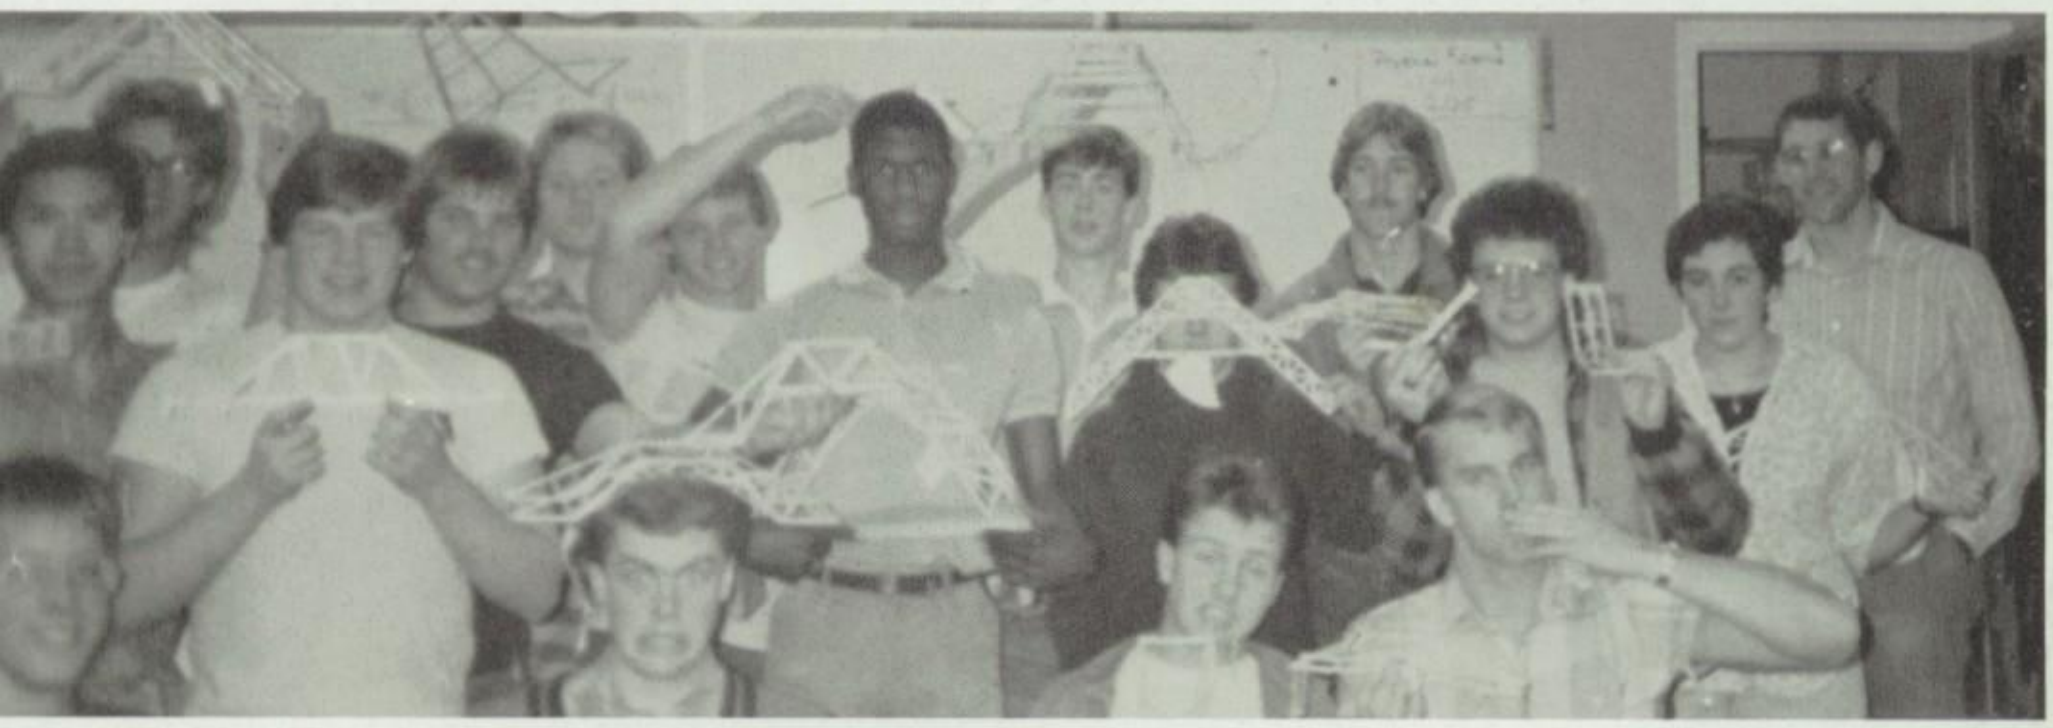
In truth though, making my bridge helped me use my physics skills to support my habit of creating things."



STEPPING OUT

Puttin' On The Ritz

Short and Sassy . . . Partytime . . . Future Fantasies . . . Romantic Dreams . . .

A large crowd of students and parents gathered in the Al Rose Gym, Thursday, March 5 following the Open House. They anticipated the viewing of the 1987 Prom Fashion Show. "Puttin' on the Ritz" was the show and Prom theme. The junior models were certainly putting it on. Terry Sauer and John Strohmeyer were the Hostess and Host. They described the stylish formal wear donated by Loralie, Tuxedo Den, and The Wedding Place.

Michelle Ast produced the fashion show and with a lot of time and effort created an enjoyable and entertaining evening for all. The Class of '88 had many volunteers to model. They were; Ali Artherton, Angel Burcham, Jennifer Doniak, Charissa Fisher, Shannon Kavert, Karen Miceli, Wendy Parsons, Stephanie Ramsey, Dawn Reniger, Shelly Rich, Stacy Stephenson, Natalie Wilhelmson, Shawn Avery, David Lawell, Darren Neidlinger, Chris Paulson, Jeff Payne, Chad Peterson, Craig Simmons, Steve Taylor

OLLECTIONS

Central Valley is made up of many different kinds of people, with different interests and talents. There were organizations for all of these people, ranging from C.S.F. to F.F.A..

Loren Flynn streams the sky. Kevin Williams and Jason Cassidy prepare to D.J. a dance. Melody Lee and Natalie Wilhelmson get ready for a beach party. Stacy Gates gets a facial from Kim Lick. Thad Harroun, Tessa Leroy and Kim Mohr plaster balloons.

A CLASSIC TRADITION

As you enter room 44 you notice the heat as it rises from the floor. You are about to enter the unusual . . . the crazy . . . The Yearbook Zone!!

People are working on the floor, Running in and out the door. Photographers are asking them what they need, The writers are saying "more more, more!"

An almost all new staff created this year's annual Talon yearbook. They worked diligently even through some minor setbacks. The yearbook was thinned out by omitting thirty-two pages. This change was made due to financial problems in the past. The staff did not have much to work with, but they used many low cost techniques to insure excellent graphic style.

Many staff members do work without receiving credit. The co-editors were Katie Bullock and Louise Corbin. The advisor was Ms. Suzanne Garin. This year's cover design was created by Tim Tallerico, a former staff member.

-Rhoni Sanders

What's the main attraction, Katie Bullock and Louise Corbin? Good shot, Miss Garin! Kristin Diehl, let's party! Top: Jake Richardson, Christy Poe, Lisa Hoffman, Tammy Moore, Kristen Diehl, Jaquie Salley, Dawn Anderson, Middle: Tamra Wallace, Advisor, Miss Suzanne Garin, Co-Editors: Katie Bullock and Louise Corbin Raymond. Bottom: Rhoni Sanders, Kathy Van Pelt, Kathy Coombs, Tammy Klippenstein. Not pictured: Rita Jennings, Candi Clark, Katie Bullock, Louise Corbin Raymond. Louise Corbin Raymond and Miss Garin.

The best part of being on the yearbook staff was to work on something you have only seen in bits and pieces all year, and, then, to see the final product in a book that will last forever.

-Katie Bullock

MAKING THE FRONT PAGES

Have you ever stopped to think what might be going on while you were in your sixth period? Could you imagine that a class way in the back corner of your school was actually publishing a newspaper?

An enthusiastic group led by Mrs. Sue Franklin (advisor) and Steve Zeller (editor-in-chief) finance the newspaper. They sell ads for each issue, and they design and sell the football programs.

Approximately 10 issues are published each school year. The staff is responsible for delivering the paper to the press. They also mail and exchange the Falcons' Cry with all advertisers and 10 other schools. Overall, the staff does a very professional job.

IT'S HIP TO BE SQUARE

The California Scholarship Federation is an honor society In order to become a member, you must have a high G.P.A. People whe have been in C.F.S. for four semesters during their high school years, will be considered life members as long as one of those semesters is competed in the senior year.

C.F.S. was not an active club this year. Many of the club's members will be graduating this year, so the club will be graduating this year, so the club will be taking on new members. In speaking to one of the life members, Katie Bullock stated, "C.F.S. helps you a lot when you are applying for colleges." She also stated, "I didn't know anything about C.F.S. when I was in the ninth grade, and I enjoy having good grades and being honored."

Central Valley high school is proud of the graduating life members, and will be very proud to see them walk down the aisle in their robes with their gold tassels representing Central Valley High School.

AFS ONE MORE YEAR

The American Field Service (AFS) is a club organized to help aid foreign exchange students coming to Central Valley, and students from Central Valley who wish to go to a foreign country. AFS helps these students buy yearbooks, ASB cards and lunches. AFS aids students from Central Valley go to foreign countries by having fund raisers to help pay for part of their expenses.

When asked why AFS was almost dropped this year Tracy Zanni said that "the adult AFS club no longer exists, so we no longer had any funding. However, the Kiwanis club has continued to help us with funds as have a few other sources. Thanks to them, the foreign exchange club can continue to help visiting foreign exchange students and students from Central Valley who wish to become foreign exchange students.

The advisor for AFS this year was Mrs. Tallerico. The officers were Tracy Zanni, president: Shannon Brown, secretary: Dave Lawell, vice-president: and Craig Simmons, reporter.

The foreign exchange students that attended Central Valley this year were Stephan Berkner from Germany and Henrik Olssen from Sweden. Although Stephan and Henrick did not come to Central Valley through AFS, the AFS club was still willing to help them with anything they may have needed.

PROUD INDIANS

The Indian Culture Club is made up of those students who are proud of their Indian heritage, and is open to anyone who cares to join. The club was formed to join hands in friendship and to exchange cultural ideas between Indian students and non-Indian students.

Ms. Stewart, the club's advisor, kept the club members busy this year. The club sold candy and held a dance in February. Next year Ms. Stewart is hoping to have a Pow-Wow with Indian dancers for the club members. She also said that Indian Culture Club is important for students because it gets them involved in school activities, and helps them to feel welcome and a part of our school.

WHAT'S BURNING?

Mrs. Silveira has once again trained another chefs' food class. Many students thought that chefs' foods was just another easy A class, but they were wrong.

Mrs. Silveira has trained the students in her class on the basic outlook on life. She has not only taught them how to cook, she has taught them the values of parenting, and how to spend money wisely; she has taught them how to survive.

To teach the students how to start being good parents, for one week during the year each student must take care of an egg. This is a raw egg, that is to be treated like a child, and must never by left unattended. The students are graded on the condition that the egg is in at the end of the week.

-Candi Clark

"If you enjoy cooking, this is the class to take. Students learn lots of skills, such as parenting, consumer, and of course, cooking skills."

"Parents" are given newborn eggs to take care of, and just like real babies, they require constant attention.

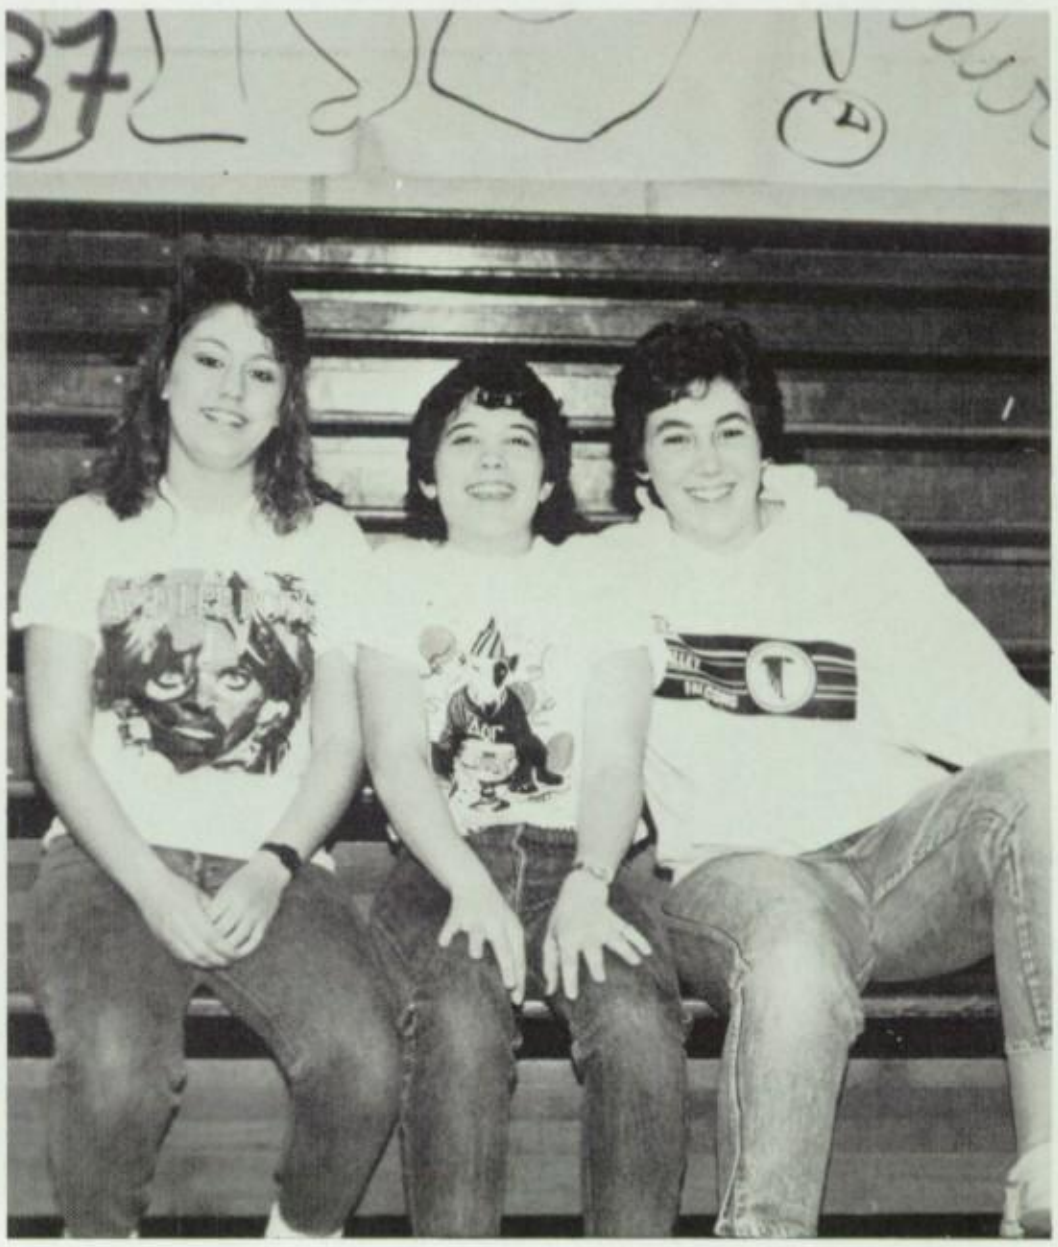
FBLA - BACK IN ACTION

The FBLA was back once again to complete their second year in a row. FBLA was a very inspired group of kids.

You might ask what is FBLA for or what does FBLA do? FBLA helps students who are interested in business oriented careers. What keeps FBLA going? It stays in business by having various fund raisers. FBLA sold carnations, candy, and baked goods to help raise money. This group raised the money so that they could go to Anaheim to tour various businesses.
Members of FBLA were looking forward to making their trip to Anaheim and to visiting the big business world. "I only wish that more people would join FBLA. It is an excellent way to learn more about the business world and a great career guide."

-Candi Clark



"I WANT A JOB!!"

Have you ever listened to your parents lecture about why you need a job? Or have you ever gone for a job interview and heard, "Sorry, we aren't hiring high school students?"

Now is your time to take action! Join an R.O.P. class and learn how to say, "Hire me, I've got experience for this job!" R.O.P. (Regional Occupation Program) is a class set up exactly for that type of statement. It allows students to find the kind of occupation they enjoy, and to go out to gain experience. There are many different types of topics or occupations. Some examples are child care, fire training, merchandising, agriculture, computers, nursing and the list goes on and on. When asked what she enjoyed most about ROP, senior, Sandy Potts said, "You get to go out and get experience in the type of job of your choice. You also get the chance to find out if that's the right job for you." So whatever you do or whatever you want to do, there is always more than one choice. You have always got the chance to choose your job and get the experience you want or need. It all starts out in the career center, where the student meets Mrs. Kampman. She helps you decide on a career of your choice, and she gives you the general information about your choice. You are then sent to a class to learn about it. As your experience increases, you are sent out to get the full effect of the job.

AG KIDS ARE ACTIVE

The agricultural program at C.V. is carried out at the school farm in south Redding. Both R.O.P. and agriculture students attend class at the school farm during the day. Both Shasta and C.V. attend this farm, however, the majority are from C.V.

All the students involved in this program are also involved in Redding F.F.A. (Future Farmers of America). Everyone helps to raise cows, pigs, pumpkins, sweet corn, and other things to sell with the money going back into the program. There are also shop courses in welding and metal work, woodwork, and work with agricultural equipment.

These students learn everything about the agricultural field, but that's not all. They learn leadership and business skills.

They participate in every aspect of their desired field. Some go on in the agricultural field, and they are successful since they have a solid ag background. Some students go to junior college, and others go directly to work.

There are thirty-six students from Central Valley so far this year in attendance. Their director, Mr. Wolford, told us that, "C.V. students are very active and beneficial to the program."

-Lisa Hofmann

Alan Coffey takes care of his little pal. The calves stretch their necks to get the scrumptious milk. Gale McGrew, Alan Coffey, and Chris Chek show us their favorite little oinkers. Some of the F.F.A. crew: Richard Sweet, Chris Chek, Alan Coffey, Scott Carroll, Jalien Flores, Gale McGrew, and Mark Elvers. Ever feel like you're being watched? "We teach them the skills they need to succeed in whatever they choose to pursue a career in. How they use those skills after graduation is up to them."

SENIOR WILLS

I, Katie Bullock, being of somewhat sound mind and body, do will to the period three Drama class, all of my leftover party cups, and the ability to "see it". To Mr. "Flat Rock" Fehliman, I will a life time supply of peanut butter cookies. To Mr. Wagner, I will another "great" skier to his cause. To Mrs. Tenney, I will whip-lash-free riding when you're with me. To Mrs. Herndon, I will the ability to sing on key, and do the Karate kick while in a head-stand. To all of the faculty of Central Valley, I will a tremendous thanks for making my years at C.V. the best possible, also I will my little brother, have fun!! To the class of '87, (it was a great year huh), I will you all health, wealth and happines.

I, Colleen Conley, being of disturbed mind and short body, leave to my friend and neighbor, Michelle "I'm not going until 2nd period" Ast, my parking spot so she may drive her own car instead of bum a ride from me. To Mr. Springhorn, I leave an open typewriter in Mrs. Tenney's class so he may type his own junk for a change. Don't worry Spring, I'll get even with you one of these days! To Natalie and Barbara, I leave the ability to finally say "Seniors on the bus first." Don't let the juniors push you around, especially "Weasel". To Chris "Let me borrow your car" Layne, I leave you the ability to eventually get your license. I'll miss those wranglers. To Phaedra Mitchell, I leave all of my work, that will allow her to graduate. Good luck as a senior, I sure hope you get Dunlap. To Mr. Eaton, I leave the promise of always striving to be the best, and someday I'll make you proud. Watch for me in the NBA. Finally to all the teachers that dreaded having me in their class, just think, there is one more Conley on the way.

I, Shannon Brown, being of great mind and so-so body, do declare this to be the last will and testament of my senior year. To my sister, Shelise, I leave all my teachers, in hopes that she will treat them well, (don't forget to wind them up sometimes, it makes them run better). To T.E.Z., I leave happiness with Mark, I also leave exploradora 007, lechuga la tortuga, and oo-blech. To Cas, I leave memories of Mr. McHargue's room and lunch. Also, my hopes of your being a GREAT actress someday. To Thene, I leave morning rides, walks to school, and my stories. To Mister X, the strange one, I leave one plane ticket to Wisconsin. To everyone else, I leave a bit of sunshine, to be saved for a rainy day.

I, Holly Norris, being of sound mind and body (I think) hereby will Kelli King, for the next wonderful 2 years, our messy and unorganized locker all to yourself, also, for you to keep on hand all of my gov't. papers and my A+ test scores, so you can be a wonderful student as I was. To all of my friends, I hope that all of you have a wonderful life. To Wally Daniels, I Love You, don't forget June 20, 1987.

We, Leslie Toten and Tracy Mossbarger, being of deranged minds and sick bodies, do hereby bequeath the following things: To Lisa Hoffman (Turtle), we will a tighter pair of shorts, and our outstanding volleyball ability. To Natalie Wilhelmson, we will Tracy's "Get out of my way I'm a Senior" shirt. To Henrik Olsson, we will back his calculator and a hairbrush, so he can comb his hair. To Pam Depuy, we will Mr. Hargue's Christmas and Halloween outfits and a better smelling last name. To Chad Peterson, we will Mrs. Collier's argumentative assignments and a plastic smile. To our AP English class we will you the best of luck — Mark, we hope you stay in the book of people who eat Kellogg's Cornflakes, and Eric, keep your hair the color you want it.

I, Tammy Pruitt, being of sound mind and some body, will to Cory Guthrie all of my love for the rest of our lives. To Chris Layne the right to play Hank on the cafeteria stereo. To the Juniors who get Dunlap for Government, the enjoyment of watching movies on an average of once a week. To Don Finn, when you graduate, my hand in marriage. To Shanna and Dave, the right to be as cute as me and Cory. To Charles Pierson, my computer genius.

I, Nickie Magee, being of sound mind and body will my brother: The fun of Rosie. Have fun, Don!! Shannon Taylor: My wonderful attitude.

I, Ron Jennings, being of sound mind and dead body hereby leave to Ali, Stephine and Karen: All the good times we had. I appreciate the pizza you gave me at the Anderson game. Thanks, I love ya all. To the Student Body of C.V.H.S.: I leave you the party place, "The Flats". To Mr. Strohmayer: I leave you my calculator that didn't help my grade any. To Stacy Stevenson: I leave my loud mouth for the basketball games. To Heese and the "boys": I leave you guys all my moves in football. To the Sophomores: Have a nice 2 more years of the prison. To the basketball mascots (Varsity): You guys need to yell louder. To Staci L., Shannon T., and Sherri K.: You girls are the most wonderful people in the world. I leave all my love! I love ya all. To Rita H.: I leave you my Christmas tree that I should have burned down. To Jennifer H.: I leave my love, and my thoughts about your boyfriend. To all my Junior & Sophomore friends: I leave you the pleasure to raise _____ for the next year or two. To Charisson F., I leave you all my love, and the H.B.I.

I, Tracy Eleanor Zanni, being of Indian mind and Italian body, do so bequeath my semester grades to my brother, Jason. (Sorry about the "D") Remember Jason, "Life is like an orchestra, if you want to lead you must turn your back on the crowd." To Ev Brandt, I leave the yet-unsaved students and faculty of C.V., with God all things are possible. My talent for tripping on dust, I leave for Ronda Regan, she seems to have it down. I also leave her a wild smile to flash after she falls. They're a match set. Miss T., I leave you Miss Blue and the rest of Spanish 3. Good luck and watch out for the return of Lechuga L Tortuga and I hijo de O hvlech. Voya con Dios profesora, amiga. Eats, Burger King, newspaper messages, and room redecorations. I still think you're sexy. To my Shan, I have memories and a peace of my heart. Thanks for the love and laughs. Mr. McHargue, thank you. Mr. McIntosh, your very sensitive and caring. If I would ever have a crush on a teacher it would have been you. God bless you all, my friends.

I, Joe Crackel, will my locker to my best friend Kevin, also, I leave my fun times as a Senior.

I, Chris Kiarsis, being of a somewhat dimented mind, will my locker 543 and its contents to Paul Grove, and the right to push Sophomores around when needed. To Kristin Hamilton, I give the right to buy for me. To Cory Guthrie, I leave my Senior year, so he can have as much fun as I did, if Tammy says it's o.k. To Brad Sartain, the right to grow taller. To Lisa Hobbs, have the greatest last two years at C.V. To Tammy Henderson, you now have my permission to be out of class. To Don Finn, I leave all the happiness in the world, you deserve it. I will truly miss you.

I, Kathy Johnson, being of worn out mind and small body, hereby leave my car keys, mascot uniform, and homecoming tiarra to "Fan" Taylor. To Shannon Kavert, I leave the matching set of red and white shoes. Thanks for all of your help, and for being a great partner. To my kitchen pal, Adele Forles, all of my receipes, and most of all my patience. To Stacy Lasater and Sherri King, I leave behind my C.V. spirit and what's left of my party-itous. To Mr. Skelly I thank you for making my senior year easy! Finally, to my very best friend, Kimmy Barr, I give my everlasting love and support. Thanks for always believing in me and helping me. Without you my life would not be complete. To Jeff, I love you.

I, Julie "K.A.K." Krofcheck, being of insane mind and weary body, make out my last will and testimony. To Lisa Hobbs, I leave the ability to play the best volleyball game you possibly can, and receive a scholarship. And yes, my ability to consume B.J.'s. To Samantha "Taursus" Trafton, I leave my ability to be kicked out of Burger King, and the will to survive without me. HA HA!!! I leave to David Duarte my ability to skip school to go snow skiing and not get caught. To Barbra Lawson, I leave the ability to say "Seniors First!!!" P.S. I'm sure gonna miss "Tar Baby"! And you know what, they're black!!! To Michelle "Oscar" Ast, I leave my locker, on one condition; it is to stay free of school books and full of junk. Last but not least, Natalie Wilhelmson, I leave the ability to "fluff" as much as you would like, where you would like and when you would like, 'cause your a Senior now. P.S. Thanks to all my friends for great memories. We made it!!

I, Sandy DePuy, will Sam, my younger sister, Pam so she can drive her everywhere. I will Cy my bunny rabbit pajamas to remember me by. Chanon Brown & I will to Chris Wood our great tennis ability.

I, Athena T. Varelas, being of artistic, dubious mental stability and generally sound body, to bequeath the following material and emotional possessions to the following people: To my little sister Lori, one totally radical senior year, (the one I thought I was going to have), and my Fey bag of tricks for dealing with boring teachers, dull assignments, school lunches and Sophomores (just ignore them). I love you. To Jason, Ken, Leah, Don, Travis, Chad, Todd, Craig, Jerry, Kristin and the rest of the wild-n-crazy Juniors in my Chem. class, I leave the future of the scientific world in your hands. For the next fantastic senior year, some advice, don't just throw it in the grass guys! I will you all my Senioritis - once it sets in, the only way to help is to occasionally nab a pizza, extra pepperoni, and eat it in your Gov't./Civics class. To Stormy, love ya babe. You get my spare locker shelves and a photo of Spencer. To Mr. McHargue, Sir, as Dorothy said to the scarecrow, I think I'll miss you most of all. Thanks for your smiles. To Mr. Moore, all my artwork, thanks and $1.00 for every carrot I ate in your class. Merci Senior, Adios, but not goodbye. To my 6th period Drafting class, the Water Buffalo Goddess leaves you her blowfish collection and all of her truly tasteless joke books, of which Eric Rick "Too Hip" Johnson is in charge. To Marli, like, hey man, Moon, like my Dean collection, art supplies and fur tuff, my P.W. video. To Troy K., my skills at football and my perfect knowledge of cut-laws I used on you all year. You're gonna need both to face the world. To Shannon and Kelli, money for all your travels, on earth and otherwise. All the books I have ever read go to Kelli. Shannon, I give you both the Brays. To Eric G., my favorite .5 NIJI (start drawing!), Bill the Cat Underoos, E. Q. comics, Japanese art collection, Van Halen tapes, and all my love, hair and safety pins (for you to divide evenly with Todd M.). To Mark H., my delicate sense of humor, warm personality, fear of heights, and single dollar bill. To Lila, I leave you the most precious gift of all, memories of all the years spent with Anna, to whom I leave the rest of my tears. To the class of 1987, it's been 13 long, long years. I'll miss you all.

I, Valerie Templeton, being of somewhat sound mind, will my honor roll grades to my sister Crin Fye, so she can go out. I also will my 40's wing, crowded by people, locker to anyone who wants to fight off all the people. Good luck!

I, Brett Wilcox, being of sick mind and body, will good grades to my sister, Cindy (she'll need them so she can get better than a D average), and to Dion, may you get Dunlap for American Government. (He shows lots of NFL films).

I, Chanon Brown, being of sound mind and soul, hereby will to Craig Simmons the ability to play tennis with great skill and agility. To my cousin Kim, I leave all of my notes and essays, to make it through the next two years of Honors English and History. To Chris Wood, last but not least, I leave the ability to have fun playing tennis, and to win the single championships next year!

I, Bob Laine, being of sound mind and sound body, cannot rest in peace until I leave to Joanne Hardner and to Hope, my spare tire and my love and friendship. For Blaine, Scott and Ron, I leave my government folder. I leave my jacket to Tom Chalfaunt. I leave Rita Jennings and Tammy Henderson my love and friendship. I also leave Ron Mills my height.

I, Dave Collins, being of sound mind and body, cannot graduate in peace until I will to my first love Trisha, my locker with shelves, my very slim government folder, and most of all me and my love, always and forever! I also will to Mr. Rhyne, and the rest of the Varsity football team, my old chalked up bike helmet with the custom face mask, which is probably not usable by inspection standards for '87. Under somewhat crazy times, and good friends, I leave Roy Brown, the best Senior year he could possibly have. To all the Sophomores, I leave the reassurance that immaturity will leave you your Junior year and come back your Senior year. To Kathy and Bill, I leave all the parties, and memories of 2nd period. Last of all, I leave all of my friends with memories of all the good times we had! Thanks to Colleen for all of these years, and thanks to Matt for being a friend. Senior 1986-1987.

I, Lynne Lerew, being of sound mind and body, will to Gary Fortner the purpose of trust. I hope for him, the best in life, and I will him the memories of the good times we had. To my sister, Tara Smith, I will my Scorpions tape, "Love At First Sing" and here's to another all-nighter with Gwen, cause I'm "Coming Home". To my Shining Star, Skip Powell, I will my eternal love forever, your Velvet Glove.

I, T.J. (Trudi) Thorton, will to the seniors of "88", don't let anyone tell you being a senior is easy or a kick-back, it isn't. To Margie Eaton, I will my knowledge. To all the teachers I had during the three years I went to C.V., I will my A papers, so you can read them to the oncoming classes. Mrs. Herndon, stay weird and keep going to Karate lessons (tell Jeff to kill all the spiders that cross your path). Mr. Bogy, don't be hard on your classes. Stay cool and don't be a "Troll". To Mrs. Kampman, I will . . . I can't will anything, you have it all, such as knowledge (too much), sweetness, and always being there when someone needed you to help, and etc. Finally, to all the students and teachers at C.V., remember, our school rules, because we are the best.

I, Cindy Smith, being of somewhat normal mind, and taken body, will to Karen Ortlieb all the determination it takes to stay at "Good Ole" Taco len. Good Luck always-I Love Ya! To Adele Forbes, I will my car, so you can go out anytime you'd like instead of staying home when "someone" wants you to. Remember, I was always there for you, and I always will be! Have a Great Senior Year, you deserve it! To Mark and Mike Jones, my good friends, and also next door neighbors, good luck in your Junior and Senior years. Have a great time, try not to miss me to much-ha ha!! To Mike Daily, I will my Mervyn's credit card, you know why. I will always love you, remember that o.k. You mean so much to me! Finally to the Awesome and unique class of "1987", good luck in the future. Always remember the fun times at Central Valley!

I, Traci Brooks, being of sound mind and body, leave to Vickey Fleming, my messy locker, bad grades and my tons of homework. I hope you have a great Senior year.

I, Yvonne Cerepa, being of sound mind and body, will to all of the faculty that had one, or even all of the Cerepa clan, the memories and goodtimes, (and bad) shared between us. I am the last you know (at least until Jeff gets married and has kids). So goody-bye. We will miss you. But don't forget we will still be seeing you a while after I leave. There are reunions. I will to Mr. Nigro the strength and patience needed to teach at least one more year of concert band, (p.s. thanks for letting me into concert band Mr. Nigro), I enjoyed it greatly!), I will to my cousin Kim Mohr, all of Mr. McHargue's vocabulary definitions, (you will need them, believe me). Last but not least, I will to everyone I am leaving behind, this little piece of advice. Cherish every moment of your high school years, and never forget those special friends.

I, Sandra Drake, will my ability to get along with Mrs. Py to my brother, Duane. Also my ride transfers to my sister Shannon, since she never has to ride it anyway. To Steve, don't forget July 6, 1987

I, Kimberly Denise Sapp, of questionable mind and ethiopian body, make my last will and testiment in regards to Central Valley High School. To the next "pee-wee" cheerleader who needs it (namely Heather Bauer), I leave my most sacred attribute, my VOICEBOX. To Karen Miceli, I leave my "Janet Jackson" moves and the energy to perform "the snake" 1000 times without stopping. To honors and college prep English students, I leave one plastered smile upon Mrs. Collier's face. To my little "BIG" brother, I leave my stack of "old papers" for your future use. I leave to Mr. Eaton my chewed up red pens and best pair of sneakers (I don't know if you'll find another aide who will walk to the office 100 times each class period). To Mr. Eaton, I also leave a smile. Thanks for being so supportive the last three years - God knows I've needed it. To Mr. McIntosh I leave my ability to think "deeply" according to Kevin and Jason's definition. To Mr. McHargue I leave a great amount of thanks! Thanks for actually teaching me!! There aren't many of your quality. To Jason Cassidy, I leave something for you to take to San Diego with you. I leave you more thanks than I'll ever have to knowledge of sharing. How do you tell your most true and best friend that being without his presence will take an extreme amount of getting used to. You're the greatest Jas. I'll miss you.

(I'm also handing over every pen I own. You'll need them for all the letters you're intending to write. Right ?!?!) To Ed I leave a deserving smile, thanks for the friendly atmosphere you always display. And last but not least, No Dan, I haven't forgotten you! And Won't! I'm leaving something for you to take that I hope you won't forget: our memories, a smile, and the best possible wishes for your success (I know you'll make it). I send with you my ability to write letters! You better write till your fingers fall off, and get mushy! And, I hope you will be so generous as to leave me some "Bowser Brains'. God know I'll need them! Hey . . . I'll miss you! P.S. To my dearest friends, you know who you are, I love you guys. Your the part of high school that was more than worthwhile.

I, Troy Kaylor, being of sound mind, and healthy body, leave to Kevin & Jim, all my football skills. Maybe it will help them next year. God knows, they need it. I leave to Mr. Yates the memories of my toughness, which always seemed to amaze him. Maybe some day he can finally look in the mirror and say I'm not a wimp. I leave to Ali, my wrestling skills. Maybe someday she will finally realize that I could have pinned her in 5 seconds. Also I leave to Ali the memory of my good looks. I leave to Miss Tallerico all of my Spanish skills. I sure didn't use them too much. It was fun having your class three years in a row. (Ha!)

I, Susan Briggs, will to Lucinda (Sardine) Cummings my power to go to class on time everyday, or to show up at all. I also will my power that when you sit in class you are able to touch your feet to the ground! Good luck next year (87 ½ rules!)

I, Tracy Williams, leave my best dirty workout shirt to Curt Hamilton. I leave my old, but nice locker with all my junk and old candy to Danny Franklin. Last, but not least, my love and happiness goes to all the people I know, especially to all the girls and gals. (oh, baby) Don't forget me! "The Iceman"

I, Jennifer Hatfield, will my test scores and my way of driving to Chad Peterson. I will my accounting skills to Wanona Woodworth. I will to all next year's seniors to have a rad senior year.

We, Susan Briggs and Patty Bell, will to Lance Lackey a great SENIOR YEAR! GOOD LUCK!!

I, Daniel "D" Bowser, of unsightly, decrepit, abhorrable body and aberrated, deranged, noxious mind do hereby will absolutely nothing at all to absolutely nobody — which is a double negative, thus stating that I will everything to everybody, due to my extraordinary altruistic nature. I know, I know, I'm just that kind of a Pangloss.

I, Jennifer Louise Pridmore, being of partially sound mind, will my smelly damp PE towel to Trina Boring. Also, to her I leave my "F" graded art papers. To Evelyn Brandt, I leave my locker #91. Last, but not least, I leave my few "A" papers and my best of times to Shannon Drake.

I, Mike Chesser, of hardly sound mind and body, do hereby will Teri Alton, and her sick horse, my swift (and not always funny) comments so that she can use them on somebody who is less fortunate than herself. Phaedra Mitchell, my nerves of steel and my steady hands, in hopes of her avoiding embarrasing situations.

I, Keith Wann, being related to my parents leave the following: To Shawn McMillian, I leave my customized locker shelves. To Kathy Van Pelt, I leave all the notes about Shawn. To Joel & Mike, I leave an open invitation to any party they can find. To Dene Doniak, I leave all my self-portraits of him to the Audobon Society. To Mrs. Herndon, I leave a ski lift ticket to Tahoe. To the Ben Doverski fans, I leave the legend of him and his family. Long live Uncle Sam. To the class of 90, I leave three years of C.V. Let Ben Doverski be an example. If he can't make it, you can't either. As Ben would say, "Sorry for moving to America."

I, Charles Bray, being of great mind and body, have a lot to leave to the lesser generations. To the seniors and juniors next year, I leave my large school spirit and my very loud voice! I would like to leave my athletic abilities to Moses and Dr. W. I leave my knowledge to Michelle Ast, even though she probably won't need it. I leave my Parking spot to Lisa Hoffman, who has the 2nd best car in the school. To Mr. Eaton, I leave my autobiography, "How to Tell Twins Apart", with the hope that the next time a set of twins comes along, you can tell them apart. I leave my brother's Don Johnson outfits to Mr. Doniak, may he wear them well. I leave my best wishes in the future to the volleyball, GIRLS' Basketball and softball teams. I leave a T-bone steak and farewell to the librarians. Dedicated Falcon Forever, Charles Bray.

To Mr. Eaton, I leave my endless respect and admiration, not to mention gratitude for putting this jigsaw puzzle of a person back together again. Thanks for everything. You will always be an important influence on my life, as a great teacher should be. If I ever win an Oscar, the first one will be dedicated to you. All my love, Kelli

I, Louise Corbin, being of crooked mind and short body, leave Rita Jennings, Lisa Hoffman and all the rest of the 1988 Talon yearbook staff the joys and headaches of putting a yearbook together. I also will to Winson, my brother, all my old test papers (only because I know you won't have a chance to graduate without them).

I, Patty Bell, will to my younger but bigger cousin, Michael Bell, my ability to talk my way out of getting tickets, to bad you didn't have it sooner!!! I also will my driver's license to you, knowing that you won't get yours for a couple more years, unless you leave the driving to others! I can't forget Suzanne Curl, to you I will my halfway decent driving ability. BE CAREFUL! To both of you . . . you're the greatest counsins! Have a great senior year and GOOD LUCK! Love ya!

I, Scott Carroll, being of sound mind and body, hereby will my locker (701) to Robin Roberts. She's taken it over already so she might as well keep it forever. To Jolien, my ability to cheat on tests and not fail. To my sister Susan, not to get hit by other cars by not moving. All of these possessions and abilities are to be given out and accepted the moment my diploma is in my hot hands.

I, Corri Maloney, of definite Senioritis, thank God that it's over. I will to Brandy Hale . . . my locker, so she can shove Dave and Lisa in it and never let them out. I'll be glad to help!! I also will to you my softball ability. I will to Ed Falcinelli, lots of luck if he continues to coach Varsity softball after this year, you'll need it! Okay, this will goes to my little dumpy buddy Colleen Conley, and that's definitely some height. Lots of luck if you make it into the college of the quacks, you'll fit right in! I also will to you, Doug's little sister. My last will goes to Michelle Ast, and that's the San Francisco Baseball team!! Ha, Ha! To the rest of you little Falcons, Good Luck, and Congratulations to all of you who passed McHargue's English class.

We, the "Tri-Grimaiii", being of superior minds and "God-like" bodies do will, with gracious intent, our elite regime that we have effortlessly built up in our years here at Central Valley, to the Moral Squad. Our three members (Kevin Williams, Jason Cassidy, and Scott Lawsimore, along with honorary apprentice, Henrik Olssen, the "Dumb-Swede") also leave individually to each of the Moral Squad the following: To Dave Lawell, the ability to juggle his love-life, and grappeling practices efficiently. To Craig Simmons, the will to improve his free-throw percentage to at least 15%. To Chad Peterson, the ability to fend off all those people who want to see him. To Steve "Pip" Taylor, the ability to pass his college classes, unlike his brother has. To Jeff Payne, the ability to say "Tough-Skins!!" clearly on a phone message machine. Finally, to the "Sea-Lion", another pair of sweat-pants to add to the collection. We know it will be hard to follow in Grimace's "giant" footsteps, but we know you'll give it your best! (Even though it won't be enough!) Adios! & "Keep the faith".

We, Lisa Sullivan and Jennifer Hester, being of corrupted mind and body, will to Richie Sullivan, our great studious minds and our ability to pass Mr. Eaton's class with an A. To Stacie McClelland, we will the little MG Convertible she never received on her birthday. To Stephanie Ramsey and Stacy Stephenson, we will Lisa's cheering ability and both of our driving ability. To Jay Mominee, we will Jennifer's beautiful car, with the "little" dent in the door, we know how proud you'll feel driving in such a luxury automobile. To Ken, whose mess Lisa had to put up with, your own private locker. Good luck next year!

I, Rhoni Michelle Sanders, being of somewhat sound mind and body, will to the Junior and Sophomore Talon staffers, the yearbook. They know why I am leaving it. Have fun Miss Garin. I leave the memories of suspension during our Sophomore year to Tammy Pruitt. Do you want to go to a dance sometime? I leave the attendance office a copy of my mother's signature, so they can see how fooled they have been. I leave my Senior year at Central Valley to Becki Laam, who would give anything to be here instead of Montana. I leave my ability to stay out all night and get away with it (almost) to Tina Carlow. Have fun with the magic show. To the faculty, I leave my sister, she will arrive in 1989, be nice to her please.

We, Tracy Zanni and Shannon Brown, being of wondering minds, do bequeath to Evette Blue, our bad Spanish dialogues (long love Ohbleahand explorado 007), and to Shelise Brown, we leave some of our brains and beauty, and the ability to attract strange people wherever we go.

I, Steven Andrew Zeller, being of sound mind and body, will the following possessions and attributes to the following people. To Craig Simmons, I leave my opaque jeans collection, my untangled hair, and my fine ability to resist Peer pressure. To Mr. Moore and Mrs. Franklin, I leave my deep appreciation for all your help. To Teri Alton, I leave a new laugh and a position as editor. And finally, to Tami Lane, I leave the job of babysitting little Zack.

I, Kerry Poe, being of sound mind and body, leave to my little sister, Christy (Kissy), all my charm and wit (use it, it might do you some good). To my favorite teacher, Mr. McIntosh, I leave a happy thought, and a big thanks for helping, also, think of Joy, for she is part of me.

I, Amy Chambers, being of sound mind and body, do hereby will the following things to the following people: to Chris Wood, many successful floats and the ability to finish a bulletin board before the first day of school. To Craig Simmons, a great senior year, being actively involved in student council, and the ability to play tennis. I'll miss you Craig! To Mr. McIntosh, a wonderful year next year and many thanks for being a great advisor and friend. To Sarah, my sister, who is an incoming sophomore, my locker shelves and many happy years at Central Valley High School.

I, Heather Helman, being of perverted mind and out-of-shape body, leave the following: To my little brother, Heath, I leave my locker. To Scott Dumore, and the guys, I leave the best of luck in '88. To Central Valley High School: Thanks for some good memories. To Mom and Dad: Thanks for putting up with me all through the years. I Love You!!! To everyone in my senior class, I leave the best of luck and wishes for the future in whatever you do.

I, Kerry Poe, being of sound mind and body, leave a special thought to a very, very special guy, hang in there Keith. I'm always there if ya need me. Remember her with a special smile, and all the sweetness she had. Remember that her love for you will never end.

I, Chris Cardoza, of sound mind and healthy body, leave to Bob Boisclaire and Jerry Voss, all my Spanish knowledge. I hope you guys can use it, I know I can't. To Mr. Yates, I leave some of my hair. I can spare it, and you need it. To Cyn, Gyn and Pam, I leave my friendship, and some good times. To Katie Ross, I leave my love and friendship. To the Zoid Patrol, I leave some awesome times and some real excitement. I hope you hombres make it to being seniors. Last but not least, to all of my friends, teachers and fellow Talons (not mentioned in the above), I leave this school, and some good memories. Oh yeah, to Todd, Eric, Randy and Jason, I leave this school behind us all.

I, Kathleen (Smurf) Coombs, being of very unsound mind, do hereby will the following: To Tony, Danny and Kurt, I leave a picture of me so that you may carry on the club. To Tammy K., I leave my ability to talk to everyone that you could not. To Candy, sorry but next year you'll have to get your own butterscotch candy. Debbie Urban, keep up your adrenaline. Good luck class of 88 . . . .

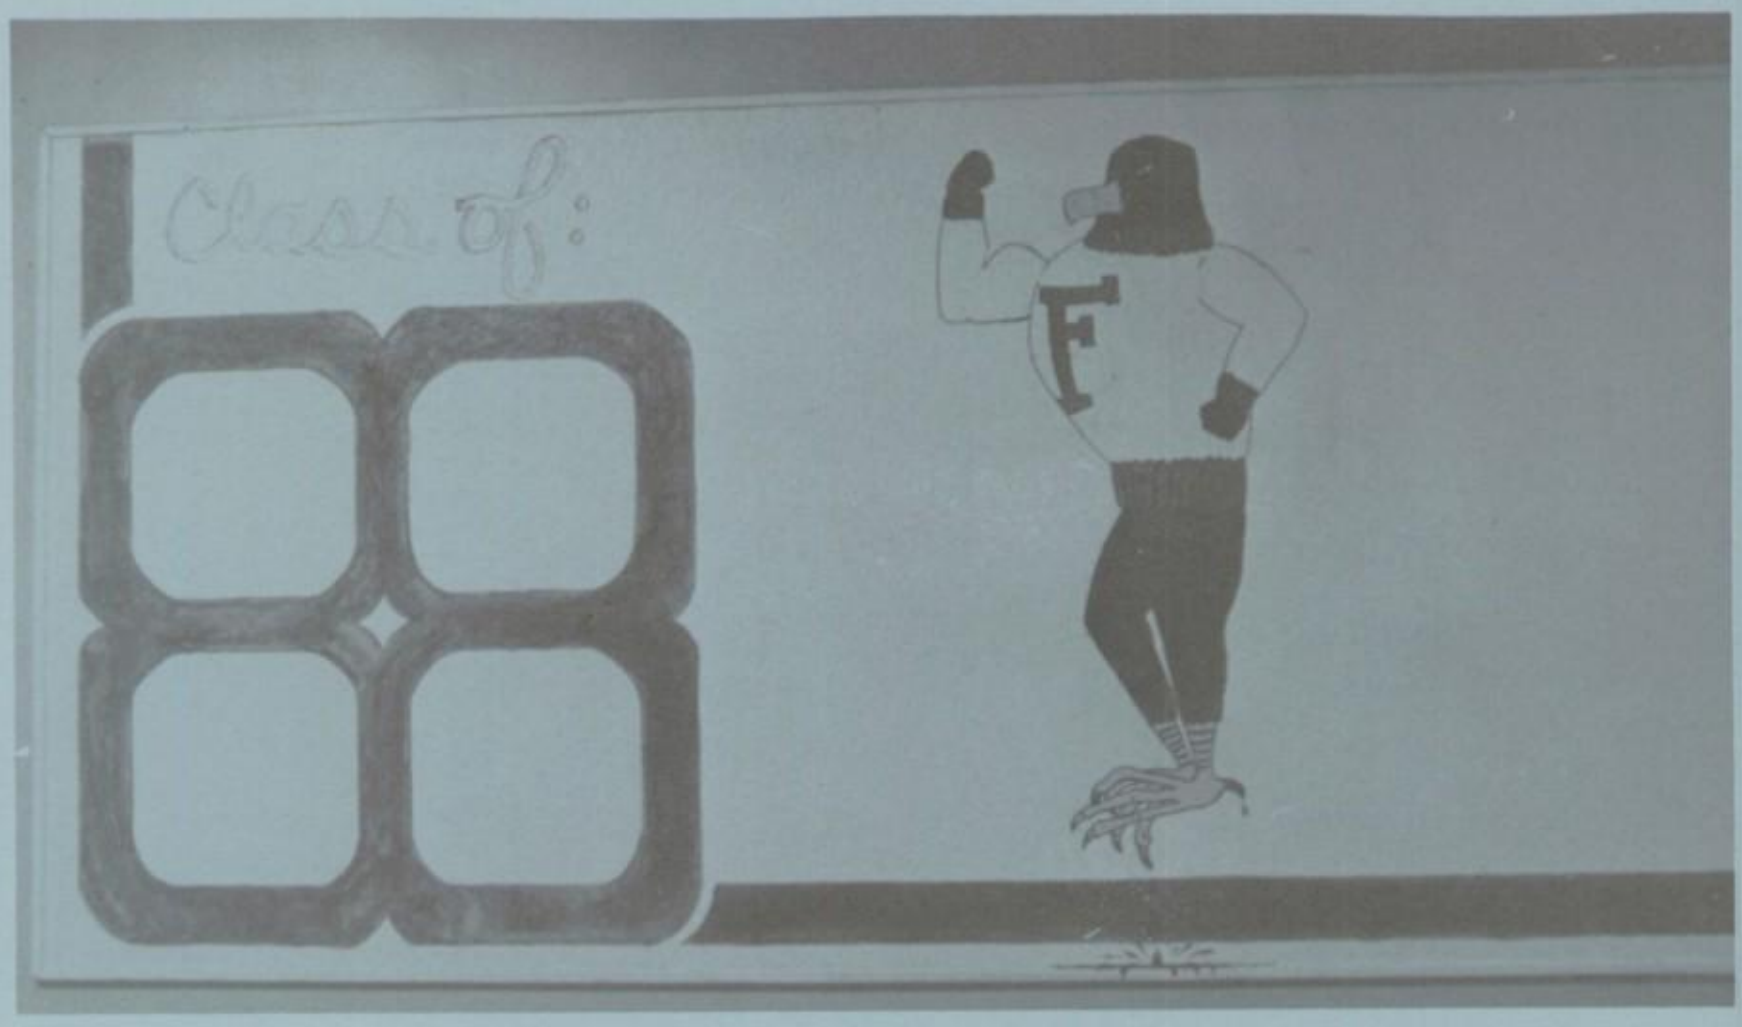
THE UNKNOWN ARTIST



What is going on this weekend? What time is the dance? Who is the basketball game against? Where can I buy my yearbook? If you would like the answer to any of these questions, just take a trip down the hallways.

Various organizations take the time to inform you of the upcoming exciting events. Student council is responsible for most of the posters. They also make the calendar in the cafeteria. A popular trend this year was making signs to announce a friend's birthday. Overall, the use of these signs formed a well informed student body.

Today, Tomorrow
And Always . . .

June, July, August
What a great summer.
Time for it to end
oh, what a bummer.

September, October, November
The school year has come.
Lots of fun and excitement or a bad nitemare for some.

December, January, February months to snuggle to someone you love
Someone sent from Heaven above.

March, April, May
Spring is finally here
the sweet smell of flowers, and the tremendous amount of cheer.

June, the time is finally here.
graduation is actually near.
The Class of '87 is on their way to begin tomorrow at the dawn of a new day!

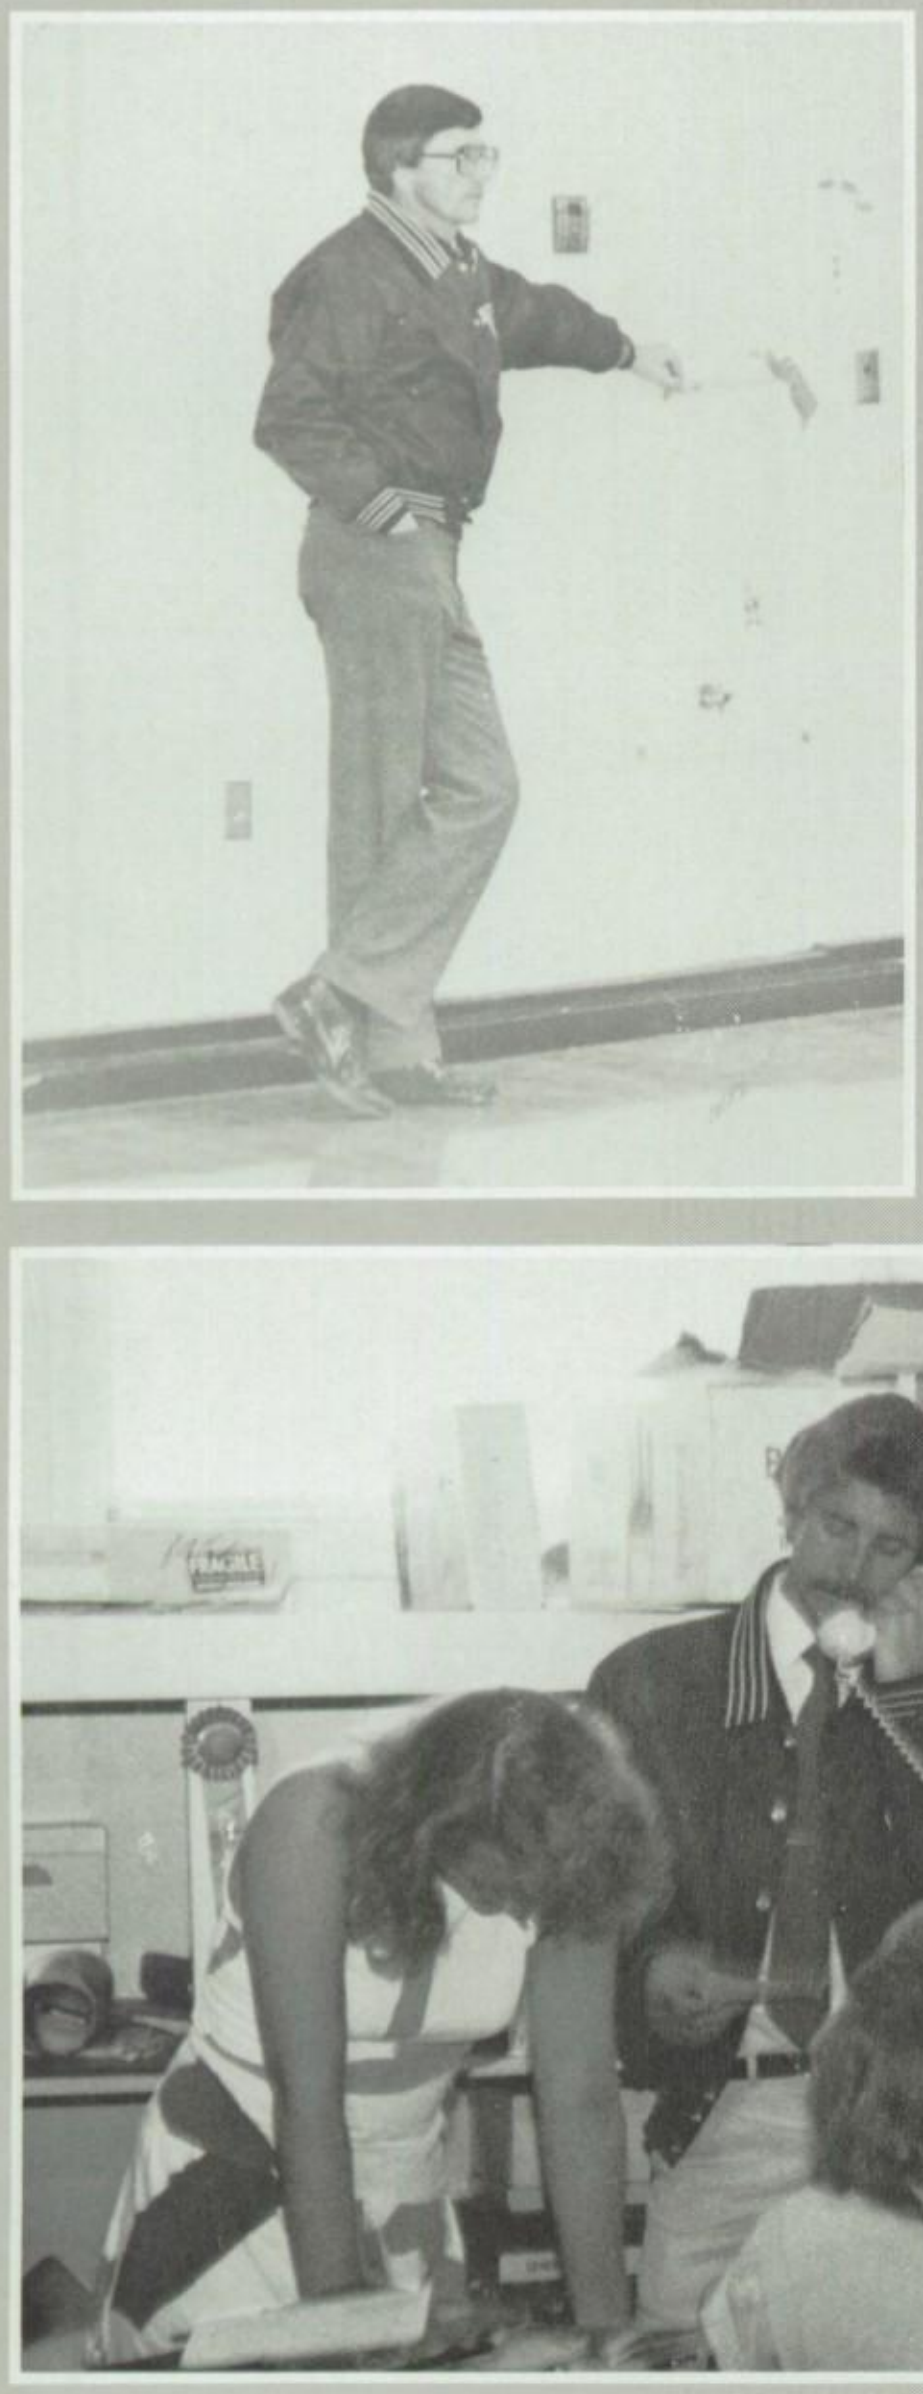
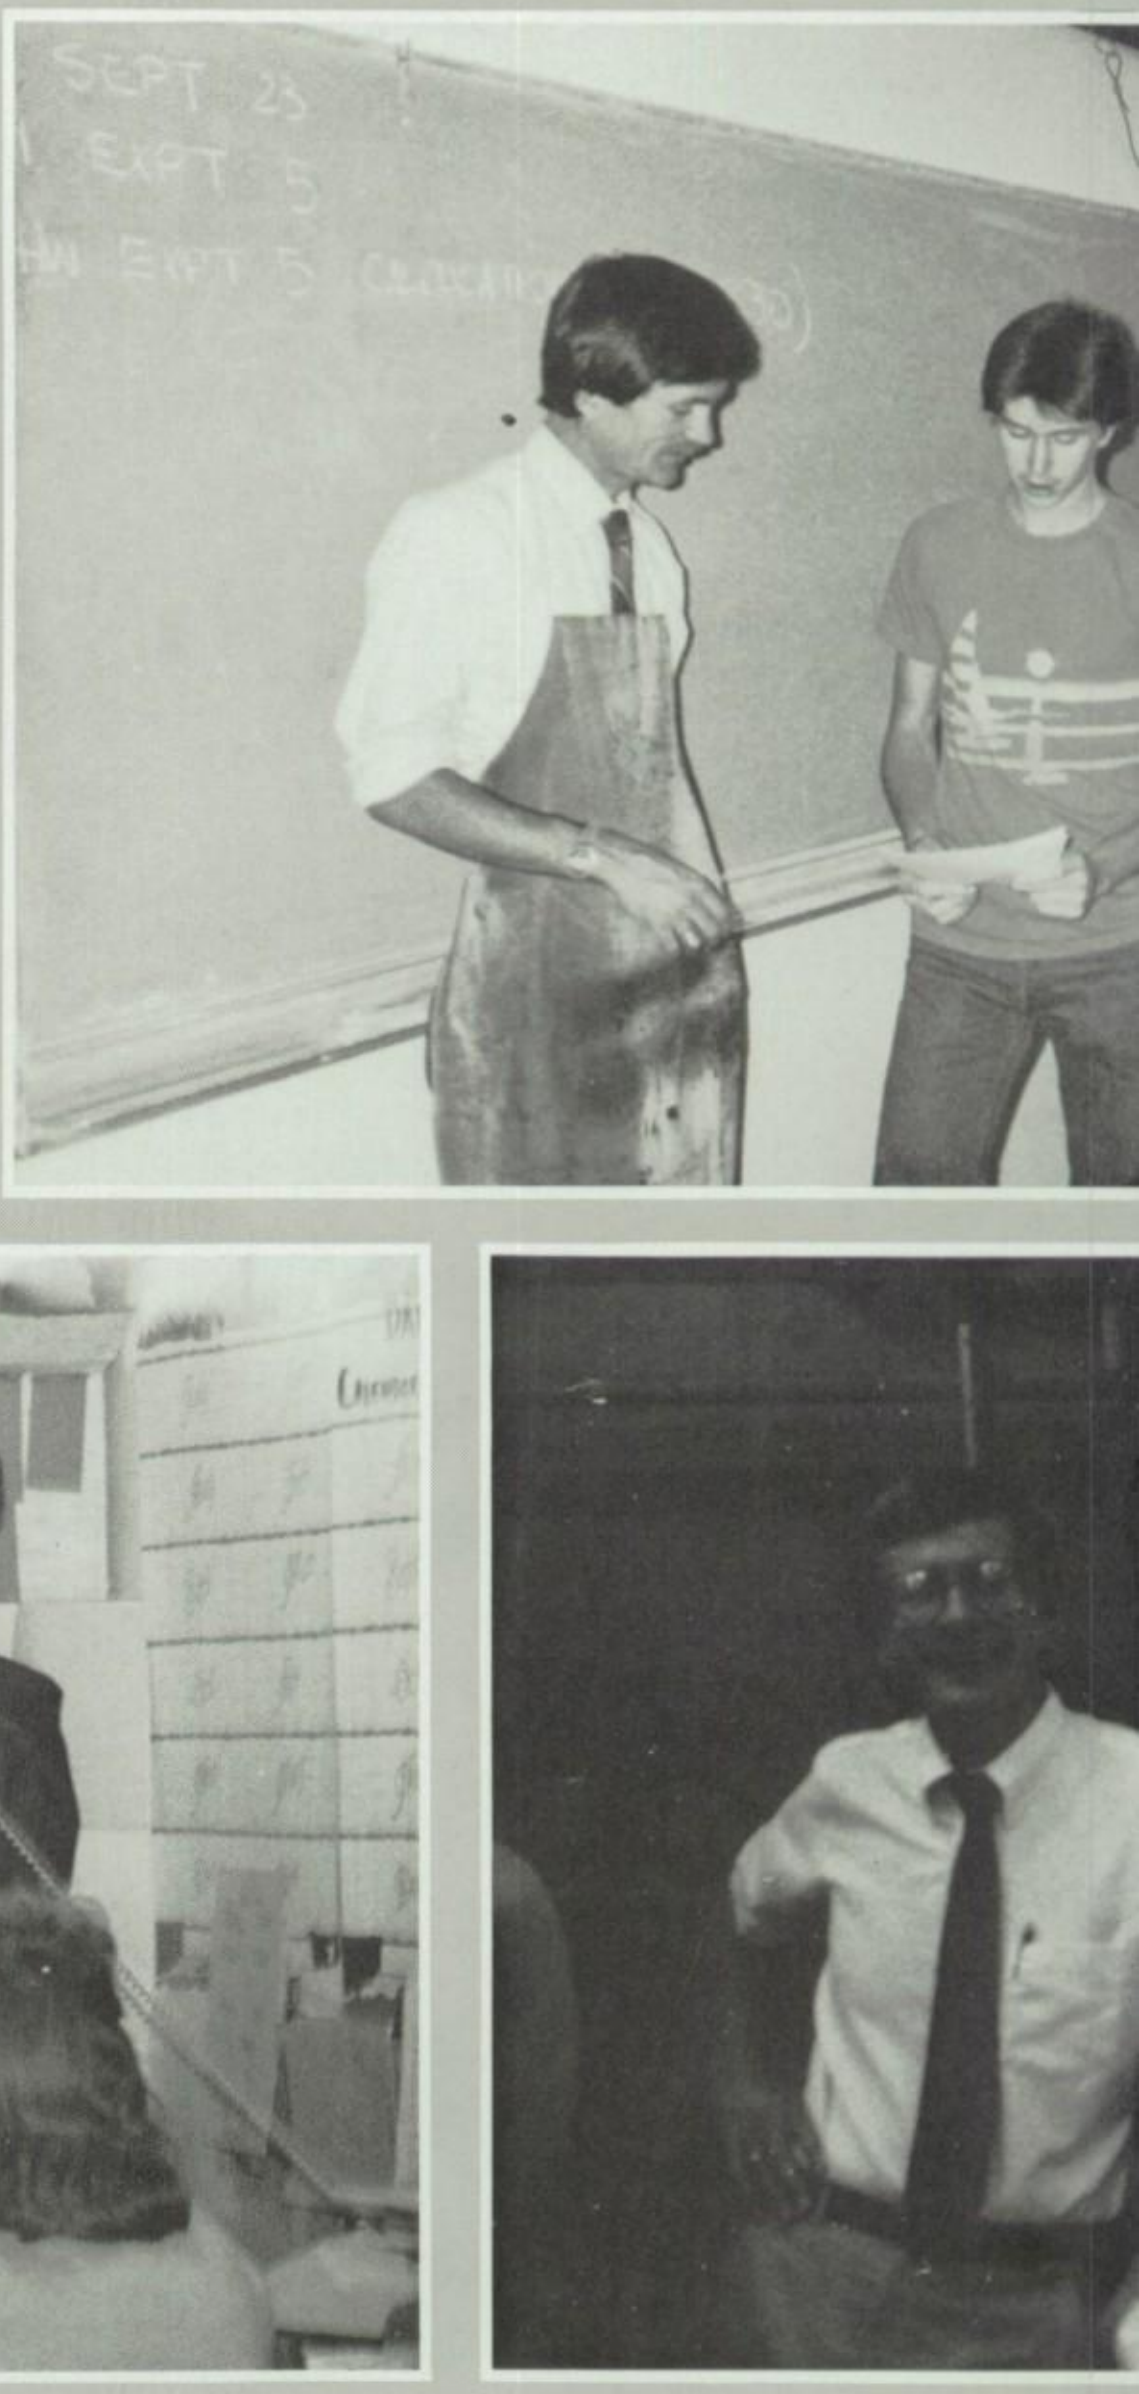
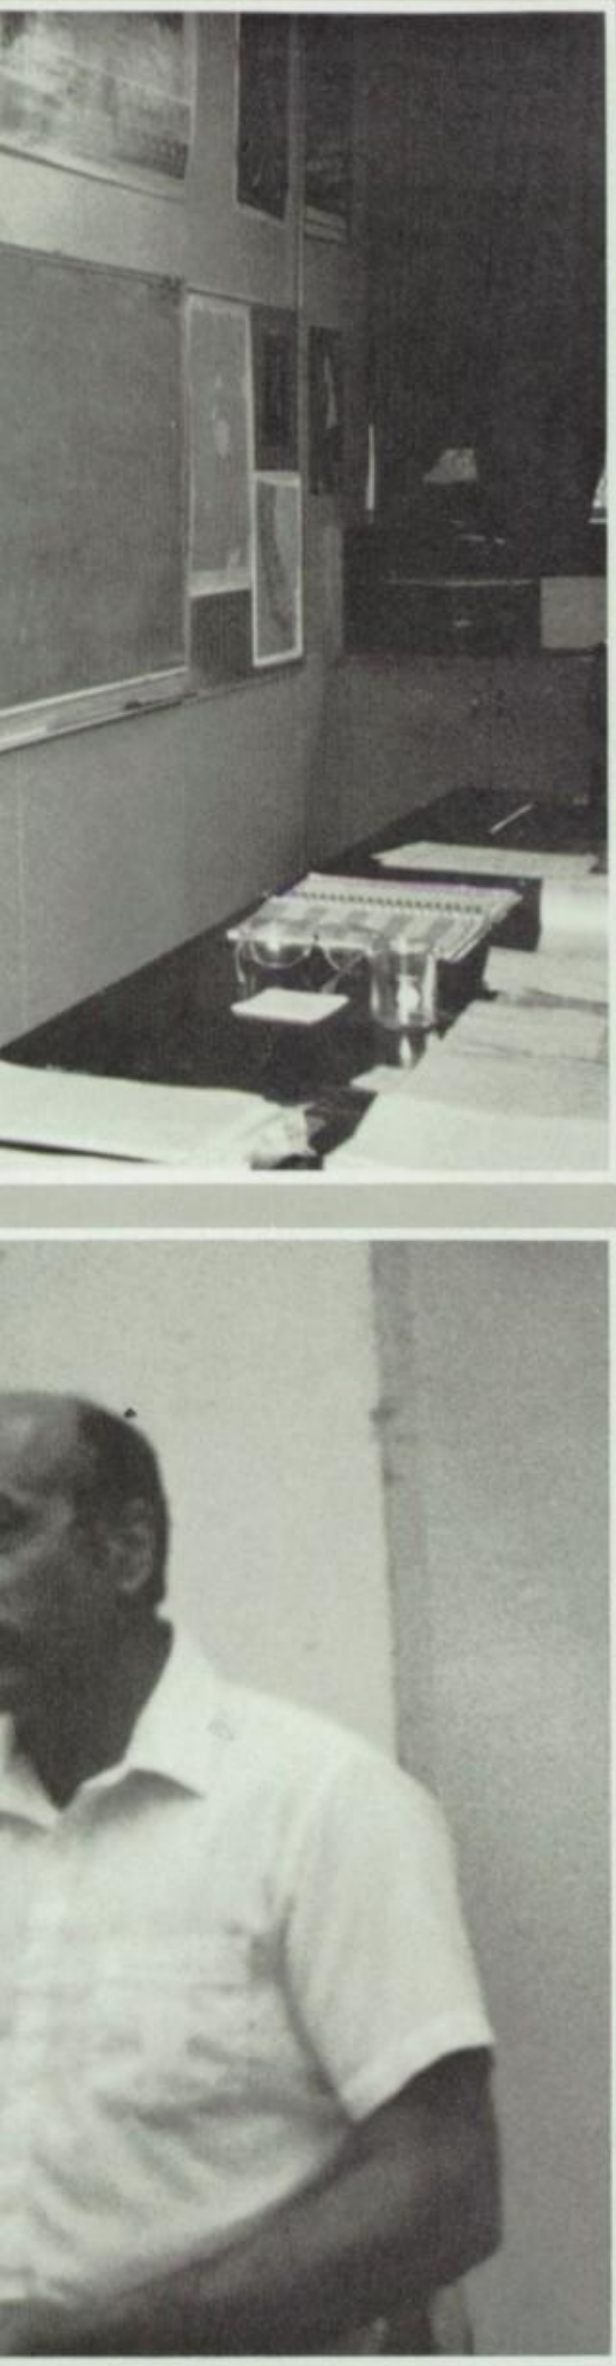
FACULTY



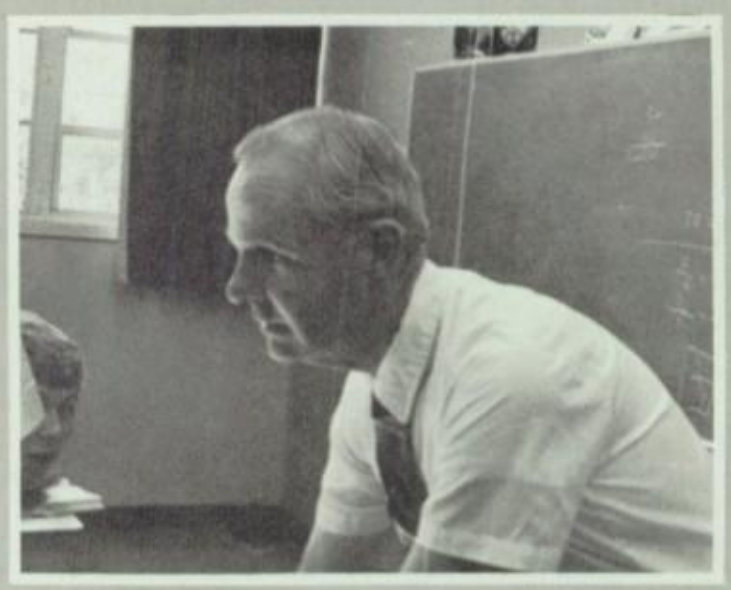


FASHIONS



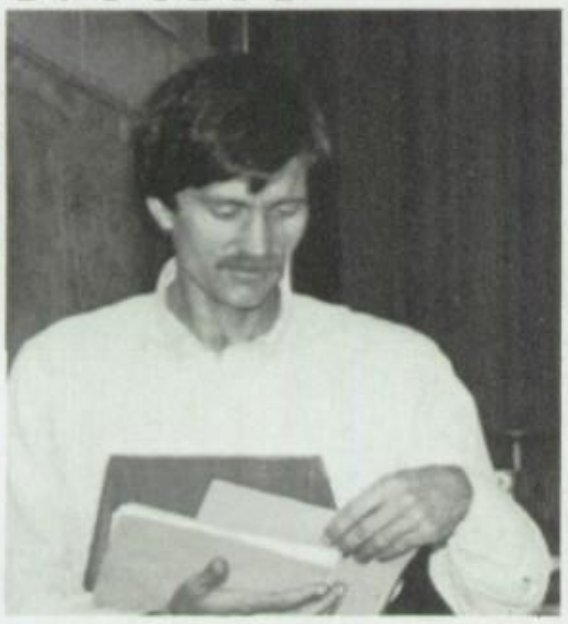
The faculty of Central Valley is an important part of our school. They give us the support and confidence that will help us become the best we can.

Mr. Embertson "takes five".
Mr. Bergstrom helps Shawn McMillan with a lab experiment.
Mr. McIntosh works with student council.
Mr. Embertson and Mr. Yates enjoy their lunch.
Mr. Ashcraft looks intently at his class.



GETTING INVOLVED!!

New Director Enjoys His Job



Mr. McIntosh was chosen as our Student Activities Director when Mr. Bailey left to pursue a higher education in 1986. Mr. McIntosh joined us in '85-'86 as a history teacher and stayed because, "I believe in this school, and I love the kids with the spirit they have."

As our new director, McIntosh is involved in student council and government, helping organize rallies and assemblies, graduation, and coordinating the extracurricular activities.

Along with his job as director, he also teaches American Government and Psychology.

Born in Eugene, Oregon, John McIntosh moved to California when he was five, and has taught here for seven years. When he isn't giving his all to Central Valley, he likes to run and compete in marathons, going to Central Valley Athletic games, and coaching track. THANKS FOR THE DEDICATION!

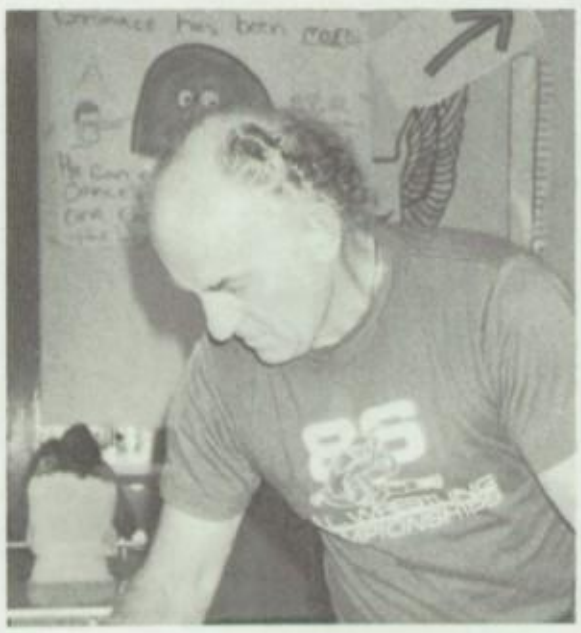
LET'S GO TO ASHLAND

Shakespeare Sets A New Trend



On October 22, 1986, Mrs. Collier's senior English classes took a long bus ride to Ashland, Oregon, the Shakespearean capital of the West. They took the day off to see the stunning play, "The Tempest." When asked about her thoughts on the performance, Mrs. Collier replied, "Of course I loved it, and I think that for the most part, the students enjoyed it too. Even the kids who didn't enjoy the performance had fun on the trip. I hope we will be able to continue this tradition." Sophomore English classes also went to Ashland to see the plays.

Another Shakespeare play came to CV when Mrs. Garin put on an Elizabethan Faire for staff and students. Garin told us, "I was involved in a summer Shakespeare program at Shasta College doing "Twelfth Night" and "The Taming of The Shrew," and I thought it would be a great experience for the kids." - Kristin Diehl

CV WELCOMES YOU!

New Secretaries Get Job Done

This year at Central Valley we are happy to welcome two new secretaries to our staff. We were sorry to see the others go, but the two new bright faces of Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Hammett are a joy to see.

Carol Hammett is a secretary in the attendence office and she also handles counseling matters. Mrs. Hammett came to us from Nova after working there for ten years. She was ready for a change. When asked about C.V., she replied, "It's so much quieter. I used to work at Nova. I enjoy this a lot more because you're dealing with older, more mature students who are more polite.

Kathryn Johnson is our new secretary in the main office. When asked about her job, she cheerfully stated, "I really love it. Working in a school is a new experience for me. I worked in the district office before, but I always wanted to work in a place like this. The students and staff are really wonderful."

HEY SKI BUMS!!

Writer And Skier Resides At CV

We are lucky to have among us a quiet, but quite interesting staff member. Mr. Ken Wagner is an accomplished individual who has been at CV for four years. He has taught for twenty years in the subjects of speech, drama, PE, and all kinds of English including honors, college prep, remedial, and regular. He has coached football, wrestling, and track at the various schools in the district.

Mr. Wagner recently wrote an English workbook called English Made Easy. He also wrote a ski pamphlet with his wife on the local ski areas. It covers thirty different areas, all within driving range of Redding. During the winter he skis every weekend and teaches a skiing class at Shasta College.

Mr. Wagner advised us to "Keep life in it's proper perspective, weed out the unimportant setbacks, and find ultimate happiness."

VARSITY, UP AT BAT

"Strike one . . . strike two . . . ladies and gentlemen, bases are loaded, one strike left . . . it all depends on how Brian swings his bat . . . there's a wind up . . . the pitch . . . the hit . . . HOLY COW . . . A HOMERUN!!! Brian Heese has hit all of his men home and bought the Falcons to a victory over the Hornets."

You have just witnessed a win by the Falcons . . . Central Valley's favorite baseball team. The season was finally here.

Everyday at 3:00, bats were brought out, bases, gloves and cleets. At that time, Varsity Baseball practice begins. Sometimes at P.U.D., sometimes at Tiger Field, but always very hard work and long hours.

The Varsity team was once again being coached by Tom Vandeventer who feels he has "A talented team who has the ability to take it to the top, and that is where we plan to be at the end of the season."

The team this year consisted of six seniors, six juniors and assistant Coach Miller, all with the talent and the determination to play, and win, the World Series.

''HIT THAT BALL!''

Well, it's that time of the year again, time to bring out the "ole bat and mit," and to play little softball.

Once again the coach for the Varsity Softball Team is Ed Falcinelli, our favorite cafeteri custodian. This is the second year Ed has been able to coach the Girls' Varsity Softba Team. Ed is an excellent coach, and at the beginning of the season, he planned to take hi team to first place in the league.

The team had several returning players from last year, and with the girls all willing to wor together, the had an excellent season.

ley Cody, throw the ball a little harder!"

ood grief, Mike! That ball went over the fence!"

e time was finally here to put away those winter sweaters and bring out the spring shorts. Spring was finally here, and so was baseball!

hile some sports require dribbling and shooting and others require kicking and running, baseball requires hitting, pitching, and catching.

he team is really good and I feel we should place in the top three. The season started off slow, but it didn't take long to pick up the pace," commented phomore Chris Friebel.

e season started on March 10th in Chico. Although they were rained out, they still put on a good show. When asked how he felt about working with the am, coach Eide said, "As a coach, I really like working with these young men, because of their baseball intelligence. I think I have several players who uld go on and play college baseball."

fore our baby birds set out for college, they have to get through high school first, which requires a lot of hard work. Not just with grades, but sports as ll. All the hard work and long hours pay off in the long run. As far as working hard goes, Coach Eide said, "I demand all my players to hustle and play ads up baseball. We have some really good hitters and some players with a ton of power."

as you can see being a baseball player is not one strike after another, it is a lot of hard work and long hours. According to coach Eide, "I think we have a od chance to be a champion team if our question marks are answered."

J.V. COMES ON STRONG

The 1987 junior varsity girls' softball team consisted of many new members, but the experience was there.

With five returning players, Samantha Trafton, Teri German, Annette Wilhelmson, Shawna Satler, and Regina Perkins, Coach Sally Ephland stated, "This year's team was one of the strong favorites for the league. Our pitching and offense are really strong. I expect them to do as well, if not better than last year's team."

Sophomore Sam Trafton stated, "I hope everyone had a great time this season. We (the sophomores) are also really looking forward to playing the varsity team next year."

Coach Ephland also stated, "There will be a lot of tough competetors this season, but we should be strong favorites to win the league."

With the new sports complex in planning, the players are hoping for a nicer field! The season started out wet, but with the cooperation of spring sports, the players will be able to share the gym. However, sliding practice turned out to be great fun for all.

SERVING UP THE BEST

Love? Add? Match point? There is a strange language spoken on the courts behind school everyday from 3:00-5:30 in the spring. It's called Tennis. It is spoken by this year's sixteen member team and its veteran coach of eight years, Roy Bergstrom.

There were just two new additions to our team who went out and tackled the courts everyday. The team played a total of fourteen matches and enjoyed a great season.

Friday, March 13th, the tennis team travelled to Chico where they lost in a blowout: 0 wins and 9 losses. They did tie in doubles. On St. Patrick's Day, they were off to Gridley where "they meet with great success", according to our inside reporter, George Land. C.V.H.S. defeated Gridley in singles with 7 wins and only 2 losses, while tying in doubles, winning one mach and losing another.

One of the highlights of the season was the March 19 Tennis Marathon sponsored by the tennis team to raise needed funds. Congratulations to all for a great season, and especially to Chris Woods for defeating Mark Herron in a challenge match to become #1 on the tennis ladder.

PUSH IT TO THE LIMIT

is year's Central Valley Track Team is a dedicated group of young adults. There were not many embers this year, but the key was quality, not quantity.

actice began in February, and they were hard at work throughout all the cold and rain and mud. ach Springhorn told us: "We have lots of talent. Not large numbers, but they're working hard. dividually, we competed well, but teamwise we just didn't have enough bodies out there."

e distance runners returning from the cross country team made a strong force in the mile, 2-le, and mile relay teams. Sprinters held up very well, and the hurdlers, jumpers, and field enters made our team this year something to be proud of. Many new faces showed us some omising talent that will continue to to give their best to our track team.

sides being a sport that tones the body, tests the will and endurance, and makes a person althy, track is fun. Come out and join us next year, there's always room on the track team!!! -Lisa fmann

SPIRIT KEPT TEAM ALIVE

Although the C. V. Varsity Wrestlers had a somewhat disappointing season, the traditional C.V. spirit was alive and well.

"We did fairly well, considering our inexperience," said Captain Dave Lawell on taking third place in the Fall River Tournament. "However, our main goal for the year was to fill the Varsity team because there weren't enough people for a J.V. team."

The Coach this year, first-timer Greg Bean, was unavailable for comment.

Of the fourteen members, two were freshmen who will be wrestling next year. Along with the veteran sophomores, the season next year should be fairly promising. As Dave Lawell stated, "Mr. Bean will be coaching and will have a lot more in the way of experience."

DRIVING FOR SUCCESS

e Central Valley Golf Team is set up for victory this year. The team has more experienced players returning than t year, and there are hopes many of them will be in the top spots in the league. The biggest challenge this year is e Shasta and Enterprise teams because many of their players golf year round. Many of our players participate in her activities and don't have the chance to do this.

ach Ron Howard, who has coached golf for twelve years and played the game for twenty-two, started playing f out of curiosity. He told us; "Golf is a game that can be played by everyone. There is no age limit, the very ung and old can always play golf."

ntral Valley is expected to place well as they have in years before. Many returnees played in the CIF finals, luding all-league player Gary Nelson. In league play each week, the five lowest scores on each team compete in tches. They play for the top six spots in the league and a running tally is kept until the end of the season.

far as any of our golfers going on to a pro tour, Coach Howard has no idea. He said college golf is a tough sport get into, let alone making pro golf cuts. Many of his students are going on to play golf after high school anyway. ere may be another Central Valley after all.

PAUL ROBERT (ROBBY) WOLFIN, JR.
July 5, 1968-April 19, 1987

Through the good times and bad times, Robby was always a person of concern. Concern, not for himself, but for others. He was one to worry about his friends before thinking of ways for him to get out of a predicament. He was always last in pleasure, but first in pain. The pain for him was seeing his friend's in trouble, and he always did what he could to help. Robby Wolfin was an inspiration to all of us who were close to him. We'll miss him, and the love we have for him will always remain in our hearts.- A Good Friend

Dear Joy,

Although you are not close by, you will never die, for you will live in my heart and my memory forever.

Love Dad

C'EST LA VIE!

It's that time once again for long commencement speeches, tossing hats in the air, and dreams about the future. It will be sad to see all our friends go, but we will always have the cherished memories from our years here at C.V.

Does McHargue really eat sophomores for breakfast? Would Mr. Bergstrom really destroy the school with his dastardly chemicals? Well, maybe not, but you can be sure, there was never a dull moment during the year.

The 1986-87 school year showed some inventive and exciting highlights from the faculty air band to the extra special Prom efforts from the class of '88.

So now, the time has come for us to say goodbye to good friends and special acquaintances. For some commencement will be an end, but for the class of 1987, it will be a beginning.

Mr. Falcon, you sure have an ugly tie!

Wtie!
What are you planning to do with your future?
